Generous Hunters Return

Judging from the account in the Molalla Pioneer, that town has some skilled and generous hunters, who recently returned from the Cow Creek Canyon country with fourteen deer. These hunters presented the editor with a generous supply of venison to prove their claims, which is a custom worthy of emulation elsewhere, not only guaranteed publicity to the nimrod but furnishing nourishment to said editor's family.

Miss Esther Revell, who last year was in charge of the Tracy School in Garfield, but now teaching in Damascus, was a visitor last Saturday and Sunday at the the W. R. Reid home in Garfield.
