

"Neal Of The Navy" Coming

Mgr. Sparks of the Family Theatre has completed arrangements to present that spectacular series of films called "Neal of the Navy." These films have attracted the attention of the movie fans throughout the country and the local moving picture enthusiasts are to be envied this opportunity.

This series will begin Sunday evening, December 19th, and continue each Sunday evening following.

The tendencies of the times are today leaning towards the freer discussion and presentation of the sex problems and marital relations. This removal of the veil of false modesty from subjects hitherto considered immodest and the teaching of the truths of sex hygiene in its many phases, is being seriously criticised by some, but where the plain moral is well pointed out, is receiving the endorsement of the leading thinkers, writers, educators and the majority of the public.

Next Sunday night's photo play, "John Glayde's Honour," is a five reel Gold Rooster set of films, cleverly and cleanly pointing out the ever apparent moral, drawn from the experiences of a successful American business man, who overlooked the claims of and duties towards his beautiful wife, in the pursuit of his business advancement and personal honor.

A film of this sort is instructive and entertaining to the spectator, who is sensible enough to grasp the moral depicted and clean enough to overlook the human frailties.

Many Auto Buyers in Town

It is generally supposed that parties enjoying demonstration rides in automobiles, are contemplating buying machines. If this is true, Bill Underwood, local agent for the new Oakland Six, should sell not less than one gross of these five passenger beauties within the next thirty days, as nearly all of the male inhabitants of Estacada have enjoyed a trail spin with Bill, this week.

P. Jocimsen the Estacada agent for the 1916 Maxwell "25" seems to be oblivious of the rainy weather, for with the top and curtains in place, his classy car looks as comfortable as a closed limousine. Pete claims there is a big advantage in having the curtains drawn and everything snug and tight, for the rival auto dealers can't recognize his prospective buyer, while on a demonstration spin.

J. W. Reed, who has made it possible for Henry Ford to take a European vacation in the interests of peace, reports having sold a Ford machine this week to Elmer Davis of Garfield.

While some of the automobile agents may feel that the present rainy season is not conducive to the sale of cars, they should bear in mind that the rainy weather in no ways interferes with the advertising of their machines or the education of the public as to their merits.

Call For Outstanding Warrants

In order to inaugurate the new warrant record book system, recently installed by the city council, City Treasurer Jess M. Bartlett requests that all parties holding unpaid city warrants, immediately notify her, by phone or in writing. In each case, state what fund the warrant is drawn against.

Firemen Elect Officers

At the annual meeting a smoker held Monday evening, in the City Hall, the Estacada Volunteer Fire Department elected the following officers:—Pres., E. B. Byers; V. P., Sam H. Barr; Fire Chief, Fred Jorg; Asst. Chief, Wilbur Simmons; Secy., Luther Henthorn and Treas., J. V. Barr.

Arrangements were completed for the Firemen to give another big dance on New Years Eve, at the Estacada Pavilion. The committee in charge comprises Fred Jorg, Dave Eschelman and Jas Smith. Further announcement of this dance will be made later.

The Modern Priscillas of Currinsville met at the home of Mrs. Henry Heiple for an all day meeting Thursday the 2nd.
