For Good Roads

To the editor:-

Several parties have already been spoken of as candidates for the office of county commissioner. No doubt they are all good men, but do they know anything about how a good road should be built? I don't think a man is competent for a county commissioner, unless he is able to build a first class road himself. He should know a good piece of road when he sees it. I think we ought to select for our next commissioner, one of the best road builders we have in the county, one that has proven what he can do, then he can assist the supervisors in their road building and be a great saving to the tax payers.

It should not make any difference to us, where the commissioner resides or what political party he belongs to as long as he gives us a square deal. I think if we were more careful in selecting our county court and supervisors, we could have better roads for less money. I am not condemning the court or supervisors, they have probably done the best they knew how. We should understand that road building is no small undertaking. When roads are not properly made and have to be made over in a short time, it is only a waste of money.

Such a practical road builder as Guy T. Hunt of Garfield or Albert Kitching of Currinsville, should represent Eastern Clackamas County in the county court.

Masons Pay Last Tribute

Saturday noon, at the grave in Mt. Scott Cemetery near Lents, the Estacada Masonic Lodge conducted the burial and paid a final tribute to the late W. A. Wash of Estacada, who passed away December 8th.

Services were held at the family home Friday afternoon, with Rev. C. F. Aue of Springwater officiating. These services, simple and impressive, included several beautiful musical selections, rendered by Rev. and Mrs. C. F. Aue and Mrs. C. W. Devore, with Mrs. H. V. Adix as accompanist.

A privately chartered car, on which the casket was carried, made the trip from Estacada to Lents Junction and return, among the passengers being the immediate family, relatives, friends and a large delegation from the Estacada Masonic Lodge.

The Masonic services at the interment were impressively beautiful, a fit tribute to the clean life and good citizenship of the deceased.

Club To Install Organ

At last week's meeting of the George Commercial & Social Club, it was voted to assess each member the sum of 50c, the proceeds to go towards the purchase of an organ for the club house.

It was decided to hold an invitation dance on New Years Eve, invitations to which will probably be in great demand.

Otto Jannsen was elected to act as the club reporter, whose duties shall consist of properly handling the publicity and matters pertaining to the club and its activities, for use in the newspapers.
