Another Reason

R. C. Deming of Garfield, now visiting his parents in New York, ends the following apropos lines, to help the Progress set forth another argument in favor of reading at home:—

Dont send your Dollar away from home. Dont run your Dollar out of town or out of local circulation.

If You buy out of town and We buy out of town and all our Neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of Our Town? Ever look at it that way?

Love your Country, love your State but love Your Home Town First.

When turkey hens manifest a restlessness and a desire to roam place empty barrels, turned down on one side, in fence corners and out of the way places, especially in the orchard or along hedges. The interior may be darkened and partially obscured from view by brush carelessly thrown about the entrance or old boards set up at one side. It is best to gather the eggs every day, substituting chicken hens' eggs in their stead. Keep the eggs in a cool, dry place, excluded from the light, and turn daily until a setting is obtained.

CRUSHED THE CRITIC.

An Anecdote of Verdi and a Bother-some Parisian Journalist.

The first production of Verdi's opera "Otello" took place at Milan, and all the prominent musical critics of Europe foregathered in the Cathedral City in honor of the occasion. Among them was a Parisian Journalist of wide reputation and undoubted authority in the musical world. His first care on his arrival in Milan was to seek out Verdi and ask to be allowed to be present at one of the final rehearsals.

The composer received the critic with extreme politeness, but replied that he could not possibly grant his request, as he had decided that the rehearsals were to be absolutely private, and he could not make an exception in the favor of any one Journalist, however distinguished.

The Paris critic, far from pleased at this answer, protested that in these circumstances his account of the opera might not be all he should like it to be. "You see," he explained to the composer, who affected not quite to understand, "I shall have to telegraph my article the same evening. It will necessarily be hastily written, and the impression in Paris the next day may suffer in consequence."

But Verdi was more than equal to the occasion. "My dear sir," he made answer, "I do not write for 'the next day.'" The critic bowed himself out.

USE A LOOSE REIN.

Do Not Be "Bossy" and Domineering in the Home Circle.

I find that I can write all day without pain in my fingers if I hold the pen loosely. If I should grasp it tightly it would be only a few hours before the strain made writing almost impossible.

Do we not often hold too tight a rein on ourselves and our families for comfort? Habit has made us bossy and domineering. When a member of the family goes we want to know where he is going and how long he intends to be gone; we keep a string on him and are ready to drag him home that we may feel that all are sheltered and under our watchful eyes.

This is selfish care. It fences the individual in. It hampers him and makes his field of pleasure and activity cramped and rasping.

When one knows that another is trustworthy, why hold so tight a rein? Some of us have got into the habit of repressing and suppressing ourselves for the sake of peace and the absence of anxiety. Freedom is necessary for the development of individuality and the best that is in each one of us. The caged bird never sings so joyously as the bird in the field or forest.—Shirley in Farm Life

Violet Sarver Wins

The result Wednesday night, of the voting contest at Park & Closner's in Estacada, was the awarding of the prize, consisting of a complete outfit of aluminum kitchen utensils, to Miss Violet Sarver of Estacada, with a second prize, consisting of a smaller, similar outfit, to Miss Helen Wooster of Estacada. While no second prize had been contemplated, Park & Closner decided to award one, as the contest was very close between Miss Sarver and Miss Wooster.

With John Page as judge, Jim Park as official announcer and the editor, as expert adding machine operator, over two hours and a half was consumed in adding the votes. The total votes cast amounted to 124,173, with Miss Sarver leading with 58,786, Miss Wooster, 43,211 and the remaining 22,177 being divided among a score of other contestants.

To give an idea of the work entailed in scoring such a contest, the adding machine's record of figures, printed as closely as possible, was over 41 feet long.

The firm of Park & Closner wishes to herewith thank the public for the Christmas trade given their store and the Misses Sarver and Wooster wish to thank their many friends for the support given their respective candidacies.

AND YOU'LL KNOW IT'S THE BEST
TOBACCO IN THE WORLD."

"DON'T GET SORE--LET

CONVINCE HIM."

WHEN some user of ordinary tobacco complains that he must take a big wad, just remind him that he won't need to do so when he uses W-B CUT Chewing —the Real Tobacco Chew, new cut, long shred.

Tell him to give W-B CUT Chewing a quality test—that a small chew satisfies; that he won't have to spit so much, that he can get better satisfaction for half the money he is spending now for ordinary tobacco.
