

Santa Claus Robinson

Excepting for the scarcity of his whiskers and the substitution of a team of horses with a farm wagon, for the proverbial reindeer and sleigh, Harry Robinson of Garfield, presented the appearance of a regular Santa Claus Friday afternoon.

Harry and wife had discovered one home in their vicinity, in which there would be little Christmas cheer, owing to hard luck with its attendant circumstances. As the family comprised a father, mother and a number of children, Harry decided to slip at least a wagon load of Christmas cheer into that home and he did it.

After explaining the conditions to a few friends in Estacada Friday afternoon, his big farm wagon returned to Garfield with a bounteous load, including clothing, food and other necessities and a liberal stock of toys and presents for the children.

For some reason or other, Harry's and a few other families enjoyed their Christmas more than usual, this year.

Loses Sixth Horse

The present epidemic among the horses of Currinsville and nearby country is proving a serious one. Among the heaviest losers being Frank Boyer of Currinsville, who has lost six of his eight horses in the past two or three months, while several of his neighbors have lost from one to three.

State Veterinarian Lytle, spent a few hours in Currinsville a week or so ago, but was unable to exactly diagnose the disease, as it seems to effect the lungs of the animals, rather than the stomach and bowels, as was noticeable during the epidemic among the cattle. Veterinarian Lytle is expected back in a few days, when he will continue his researches.

Unless the present mortality among the farm horses in this section is reduced soon, it will force the farmers to adopt mechanical power, with a consequent purchase of tractors.

C. I. C. Dance Netted Over $30.

The C. I. C. Christmas Masquerade dance at the Estacada Pavilion brought out a big crowd of merrymakers, the majority of whom were masked and in costume.

With the Bronson-Erickson-Belfils orchestra dispensing the best of music, the dancing lasted from 9 P. M. till 3 A. M.

Prizes for the best sustained and most humorous costumes, were awarded to Mrs. I. D. Wright and Miss Helen Bartlett, as a typical bride and groom, and to Mrs. W. A. Heyman and R. M. Standish, as a Dutch girl and Uncle Sam.

The dancers are all looking ahead to the Seventh Annual Ball of the Estacada Volunteer Fire Department, which occurs next Friday night, New Years Eve. Everyone is invited to this gay affair and probably everyone will be there.
