

1916 Bush Auto $675.

5 Passenger 4 Cylinder 28 H. P.
Best Value of the Age

F. O. B. Chicago
Completely Equipped No Extras
Electric Lights and Starter

For Specifications See

S. P. Pesznecker, Agt. Estacada, Oregon.

Ladies Attention

In as much as we are one of the Estacada business houses participating in the

Thousand Dollar Merchandise Prize Voting Contest

we have decided to postpone further drawings on the Weekly Set of Dishes, until about September 1st.

Remember we give 1 vote with each 1c cash purchase in the new Voting Contest.

WM. DALE COMPANY

Dry Goods

Notions

Millinery

Loyalty to the home newspaper,

and a desire to help increase its circulation and prestige and make it a power for good in the community, is the reason the Estacada merchants, now conducting the novel THOUSAND DOLLAR MERCHANDISE PRIZE VOTING CONTEST, are allowing

The Estacada Progress

to give 1,000 Votes for every Dollar paid on Subscription Accounts, whether Renewals or New Subscribers.

Stop and consider — a renewal of your subscription now for $1. will entitle you to just as many votes as a $10. purchase would bring elsewhere.

The Progress is the weekly newspaper of Eastern Clackamas County and over 95% of its subscribers renewed during 1915, so renewals and new subscribers are not hard to get. So-get in the contest early, while the "picking's easy."

Call at the Progress office and let us help you get started from our lists of names.

Eagle Creek Notes

Contributed

Mrs. Kate Courter was the guest of Mrs. S. F. Howlett last Tuesday.

Mrs. Ed. Douglass, receiving word that her brother's, Ellsworth Clester, children are sick with the whooping-cough, went to Molalla the other day to help nurse them.

Mrs. Hattie Clester has been at the home of her son, Ellsworth Clester, for several days, helping to care for the children.

Mrs. Katie Douglass called on Mrs. R. B. Gibson last Wednesday afternoon.

Herman Duus and wife were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Douglass Sunday.

The directors of district No. 50 put in some new window-lights and oiled the floor of the school house last Saturday.

Fred Hoffmeister's horses that have been sick for several days are reported on the road to recovery.

Mr. Orke and T. C. McKay took some hogs over to Buyer Lucke, at Estacada, on Monday.

A. D. Mc Millan and wife were Portland visitors the latter part of last week.

Jesse Douglass and family, and sister, Mrs. H. S. Jones, of Portland, were the recent guests of their mother, Mrs. Viola Douglass. Mrs. Jones returned to her home Monday morning, but Mr. Douglass decided to remain for a few days longer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reid and son, Chester, and Henry Udell and children were guests at the home of James Gibson Sunday.

Miss Edna Kennedy made a trip to Portland last Saturday, returning to Eagle Creek Sunday evening.

Mr. Kirchem, of Sellwood, paid a visit to his farm on Deep Creek recently.

The King is Dead, Long Live the King.

A biographer of Louis XIV. of France says his death was announced by the captain of the bodyguard from a window of the state apartment and that, "raising his staff of office above his head, he broke it in the center and, throwing the pieces among the crowd, exclaimed in a loud voice, 'Le roi est mort!' ('The king is dead!') Then seizing another staff he flourished it in the air, shouting, 'Vive le roi!' ('Long live the king!')" The phrase was used in announcing the death of other French kings and for the last time at the death of Louis XVIII. It is often quoted to signify the quickness with which official authority and popular admiration are transferred from a dead ruler to a living one.