

Buying Teams

Alex Botkin and Herman Duus of Garfield are this week purchasing a new team of young work horses apiece, buying the animals from the farm of Carl Duus, near Maupin, Or.

John Duus of Garfield has gone to Maupin, where he will drive the horses to The Dalles, from which point they will be shipped to Portland by boat and are expected in Estacada the latter part of this week.

DODGE BROTHERS MOTOR CAR

When an automobile plunges down a steep bank for fifty feet, turns over, and can then be driven to the garage on its own power—when only the glass windshield and a fender are broken in such an accident—there must be a reason. The reason is QUALITY. Dodge cars are built not only for power, speed and endurance—but for hard usage in all kinds of weather.

Price for this wonderful car in Estacada is $880.

Car Turns Turtle

What might have been a fatal accident, occurred to John Lovelace and party last Friday afternoon, when his Dodge automobile skidded on the Clear Creek Hill, rolled off the roadway, landing bottom side up forty feet below.

The party, comprising Lovelace, Charley Bard and one of the Bletch boys, was bound for Elwood and had reached a spot about three-quarters the way up the Clear Creek Hill, near a watering-trough, where the road was exceptionally slippery. In order to offset a skid of the back wheels, Lovelace turned the head of the car and by mistake, placed his foot on the throttle instead of the brake, causing it to make a plunge from the roadway.

Bard and Bletch succeeded in jumping, but Lovelace stuck to the wheel and managed to crawl out from in under the overturned car, which owing to a small stump, had not been able to fall completely over, although it had rolled forty feet down the canyon.

Saturday morning, with the aid of half a dozen men with blocks and tackle the car was righted and hauled back onto the roadway, the only damage sustained, being a broken off wind shield and bent fender. The engine was in no ways hurt, Lovelace driving the machine back to Estacada.
