Eagle Creek Grange held its regular meeting Saturday. There were over 40 present, including visitors and children. A short business session was held before dinner, and after dinner the raising of strawberries was discussed; the discussion being intermixed with a few readings. A committee was appointed to prepare for the May picnic which will take place May 20th. Among the grange visitors were: Mrs. F. C. Wilson, of Warner Grange; Mrs. Sarah Dallas, of Damascus; James Bell, of Sandy; and the Misses Edna Deyo and Florence Colt, teachers of the Eagle Creek school.

Ernest Hoffmeister and sister Myrtle were Estacada visitors Saturday.

The house of J. P. Strahl caught fire Sunday afternoon and burned to the ground. Mrs. Strahl and father, Mr. DeMoss, were visiting at the time with Mr. and Mrs. Brasch, who live nearby. Mr. Strahl and son Leslie were at home, and along about 2 o'clock found the house was filling with smoke and after investigating, discovered that it was on fire. It is thought it caught from the stovepipe or flue, as the fire was on the inside, between the ceiling and the roof. As Mr. Strahl could not reach it from the inside he climbed onto the roof, and pulling some shingles loose, it blazed forth. As they could not make the Brasch family hear; they shouted and discharged the gun, but to no avail and having to fight it alone, were unable to save the house, altho they saved a little of the furniture.

It is too bad one has to lose their home after getting a fairly good start.

Pluss Cahill and Lewis Rivers of Eagle Creek and families, left Tuesday for Malone, Washington, where the men will engage in the logging business.

Grandma Hoffmeister of Eagle Creek, who is in her 78th year, is reported to be in very poor health.
