C. I. STAFFORD

Republican Candidate for County Assessor

Several years experience in office and corporation accounting, added to about eight years active business experience in Oregon should be good qualifications for the office I seek and should enable me to give excellent service in the Assessor's office if elected.

I believe in a period of exemption from "cleared land rates," for the resident owner of farm land who clears and puts it into cultivation as such is a benefit to the community and the state. Your support in the primaries of May 19th, is respectfully solicited.

Fish Eating Cattle.

The use of fish as food for cattle is an idea more novel than agreeable. According to Nature, however, it is a common practice in various parts of the world. In Shetland and Iceland the farmers feed dry salt fish to cattle, sheep and even to horses. Cecil Wood, describing experiments of this nature, mentions that certain special cattle, kept for display at the village festivals in Nandyal, in India, are fed with mutton and adds that it is a fairly common practice to make use of handcoots by pounding them in a mortar and feeding them to cattle. In Mr. Wood's experiments two lots of heifers were fed on dried fish diet and normal diet respectively.

The animals took a little time to get used to the fish, but they ate it readily enough. At the end of six months the fish fed heifers showed an average increase in weight of fifty-four pounds as against seventy pounds for the normally fed animals.

Beauty Merely a Matter of Health.

Not long ago a woman said, "If I could afford to have a course of treatment in a beauty parlor I might do something for my appearance." She needed to be told that the daily bath, plain, nonpoisonous food, eight hours of sleep every night, a daily walk, sensible clothing and really good books would do more for her attractiveness than any beauty parlor could possibly do, writes Dr. Maude Kent in Good Health.

To have health means to live the daily life of work and play in a state of bodily ease, mental vigor and spiritual growth. We must consider health in this threefold aspect, for mere animal health is not desirable, nor a fine mind in a stunted, pain racked body, nor soulfulness that disregards the laws of the body and intellectual attainment. It is the all round person who is the telling, efficient force in the world, and the world greatly needs every human being developed to his greatest capacity.

Greenwich Hill.

Probably no hill in the world has had so strangely varied a history or played so important a part in the affairs of men as that at Greenwich. The granite line across the footpath on its summit is the meridian from which the longitude on every British map and chart is calculated.

The seniors of the teachers' training class have been allowed the privilege of two days observation and practice in the rural schools of the community. Part of them went out on Monday and Tuesday of last week, and the remainder on the same days of this week. The first day is spent observing the work of the local teacher, studying program, plans and equipment; on the second day the visitor teaches some or all of the classes under the teacher's supervision. The Springfield, Currinsville, Tracy, Garfield, Porter, Dover and Viola Schools are among those which have opened their doors for this work.

The Domestic Science Department has to date taken in $7.78. This of course does not meet all expenses. All things made cannot be sold because of their unfitness if not served at once. We wish to thank those who have co-operated so well in helping to dispose of things made. We were sorry not to be able to accommodate all but owing to equipment and general facilities we could not fill orders. We will not have many articles for sale after this week but would enjoy having any one who is interested come and see us work and sample our dishes.

Rev. C. F. Aue gave an address on "The Violin" and a number of delightful selections before the High School Friday Apr. 14th. To say that he was appreciated is almost unnecessary for his ability to please is well known in Estacada.

Work on the tennis court has been delayed somewhat by the bad weather, however the lumber is on the ground for the backstops and one has been partly finished. A few days of sunshine will see the court completed and in use.

Chemical Dangers.

A professor of a northern university who was as remarkable for his felicity in experimenting as Rouelle could be for his failures was once repeating an experiment with some combustible substance, when the mixture exploded, and the phial which he held in his hand blew into a hundred pieces. "Gentlemen," said the doctor to his pupils, with the most unaffected gravity, "I have made this experiment often with the very same phial and never knew it to break in my hands before." The simplicity of this rather superfluous assurance produced a general laugh, in which the learned professor, who instantly discovered the cause of it, joined most heartily.—Dr. E. L. H. in Medical Pickwick.
