

E. H. S. Again Gets Credit

Estacada High School again was brought into the lime-light, reflected through its alumnus, Ken Bartlett, now of the U. of O. athletic team, who last Saturday threw the discus 135 feet, 3 inches, taking second place against Cole, the crack O. A. C. weight thrower.

In as much as 135 feet is far beyond the winning mark as set at the majority of college meets, another year should find Ken, coming near or eclipsing the world's record of 145.

The Community Church Committee met last Saturday afternoon at the C. I. C. room, where they further investigated and perfected a form of church organization. Another meeting will be held during June, when the committee hope to complete their report.

Work is merrily going on in Estacada in the grading and filling on and Third Broadway Sts., preparatory to the gravelling of the former and hard-surfacing of the latter highway. Also the new steel water main is being laid on Broadway, in place of the old leaky wooden one.

Claude W. Devore of Estacada was confined to his home for several days recently, suffering from an attack of malaria, having contracted the disease in California, last year.

Rollo Herring, who a month or two ago, bid farewell to all friends in this section and left for New York State, where the contemplated remaining, returned to Estacada last Saturday, having gotten as far east as Chicago, then turned about and came back home.
