A. W. Cooke and wife were visiting at the home of Mrs. Howlett, recently.

Last Wednesday Will and Walter Douglass returned from their hunting trip, bringing a big fat bear home with them.

The guests of Mrs. Howlett, Mrs. Janey Reagan and two daughters, left for Portland last Wednesday.

Will Douglass made a brief business visit to Portland last week.

Guy Woodle was out Monday, peddling beef through the neighborhood.

Everett Beckett was an Eagle Creek visitor on Sunday.

Oren Ballou recently resigned from the position of rural carrier on the Eagle Creek route, and the place has been taken by Geo. Sawtell.

C. E. Dockendorf of Estacada this week purchased a Ford touring car, through the agency of the Estacada Garage.

Miss Emma Paulsen of Portland, returned Sunday from a two weeks visit at the home of her parents in George.

Cant Find Honest Man

A sporty and rather loud talking salesman hit town Monday and while attempting to impress the local merchants with his importance, mentioned that the Ford Motor Company was now making a six cylinder, mohair topped machine.

M. E. Park of the Estacada Garage, got to him first and covered a bet of $20. By this time the visitor had begun to feel dampness in his shoes and after refusing to trust H. C. Wulf of Garfield with the $40., suggested that the cashier of the bank hold the stakes.

By the time the bank was reached, the salesman, then being cold to the knees, refused to accept Cashier Wright and as no more honest citizen could be found, the bet was called off, the salesman quit peddling and left on the next car.

Just A Few Hours Sleep Between

As with the advent of the winter rains, dancing again becomes the leading attraction, three good affairs are scheduled for this month, the first being at Eagle Creek, next Saturday night, to be followed at the same place on Thanksgiving Eve.

As the first of the popular C. I. C. informal dances will be given Thanksgiving night in Estacada, and as the majority of the young folks never tire of tripping the light fantastic, it will leave but a few hours sleep between the two holiday affairs, to which all are invited.

A Puzzled Student.

Little Ethel had just returned from Sunday school and was looking very puzzled.

"Mamma," she said, "did they have very large beds in Bible days?"

"I don't know, dear," said her mother. "Why do you ask?"

"Because," said the little girl, "our teacher said today that Abraham slept with his four fathers."
