Estacada Thanksgiving Dance to be the Social Event of Season

If all of the innovations are carried out at the C. I. C. Thanksgiving night dance at the Estacada Pavilion, that are now being planned, the affair will be one of the most enjoyable as well as the most novel ever held locally.

The committee in charge, which is a large one, has been augmented by the drafting of the husbands and it is now planning extensive decorations and sufficient novelty effects to make the President's Inaugural Ball look like a back-woods affair.

It has already leaked out that among the innovations will be sparkle-dances, jack-o'-lantern dances, candy-dances and other attractions.

As many of the family pocket books already indicate, many new gowns, dancing slippers and other feminine adornments will be in evidence, with the dance being the banner event of the season.
