Two Carloads Monday

If the present rate of livestock shipping from the Estacada yards continues, prosperity is assured to this community, as each carload means the paying out of from $1,500 to $2,000 to the local farmers.

Last Monday, buyer Givens shipped two carloads, one being made up of cattle and the other of hogs.

Dick Githens of Currinsville Tuesday received a bad laceration of the middle finger on his left hand, caused by getting caught in a drag saw. At first it looked as though Dick would have to go through the balance of his days with one short digit, but after Dr. Adix finished with the job, it looks as though the finger would be as good as ever, after a few weeks of healing.

Money in China and Egypt.

Coins were made in China so long ago, it is said, as the year 2250 B. C., but they could not have been other than portions of metal cast into portable shape, such as were all the earliest moneys. In Egypt, the cradle of civilization and commerce, strange to say, there was no imperial coinage. Copper, silver and gold were used, but they were manufactured into lumps, shaped sometimes like brick, and in the case of gold and silver were molded in rings, like the ancient Irish money of ten centuries ago. It appears almost inconceivable that a people who created the pyramids and erected such magnificent temples should have been entirely ignorant of coins. Yet it is certain from the statements of Herodotus that such was the case. The first coinage of money in Egypt was not struck to assist the Egyptians themselves in their commercial dealings, but, rather, because the foreign merchants with whom they traded, the Greeks and the Phoenicians, demanded some medium which would have the guarantee of its value apparent on it and which would circulate for that value.

Individual Verdicts.

The lady jury had been out for hours. The judge looked tired, the clerk yawned, the loungers slept. The bailiff, after listening at the key hole several times, shook his head with a discouraged air. And then, quite unexpectedly, the jury announced it was ready to report, and the twelve ladies filed in. "Have you agreed upon a verdict?" the demanded. The forelady smiled. "We have agreed upon twelve verdicts, your honor," she told him in her flute-like voice. "You are discharged!" roared the judge. "Isn't he horrid?" said the ladies.—Exchange.

Poor Little Goose!

"Seems as if I can never find a decent quill in the house!" growled the eighteenth century author. "I think it would pay you to keep a goose!" sharply retorted his wife. "You mean one that would be of some help to me, don't you?" chortled the brute.—Detroit Free Press.

Coyotes.

The annual losses of live stock on the national forest ranges of the west due to predatory animals are over $500,000. Approximately 75 per cent of the sheep losses are due to coyotes. Mountain lions are charged with killing only a few head of cattle and sheep.

A Sure Exit.

Life has a thousand exits, but none is swifter or surer than changing seats in a canoe when you cannot swim the distance to shore.—Louisville Courier-Journal

You Can Help the Good Work

The children of 1400 rural Oregon schools have been using lessons on the fight against tuberculosis as texts in their class work during the past year. The lessons were furnished free by the Oregon Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis as a part of its work.

Now they are organizing to help the Red Cross Seal sale of the Association so that this method of disseminating information may be continued and the association be strengthened in its campaign to exterminate the dread disease in this state.

Acting under the formal approval and permission of the Board of School Directors, the children of 52 Portland schools will also join in the big movement.

Last year the children secured $775.74 from the sale of Red Cross Seals. It is expected that more than $1000 will result from their enthusiastic work this year. Their effort will be made principally during "Tuberculosis Week".

This comes December 3 to 10, reaching a climax with "Tuberculosis Sunday", December 10, when every pulpit in the state is asked to join the campaign by recounting progress and repeating the warnings against the disease.

The Association has sent a letter direct to the children of each school. It tells them how to proceed. It tells them why the work is so much worth while.

Through the agency of the C. L. C. the Red Cross Stamps are already on sale in the majority of Estacada business places and the public is urged to do its share in the good work.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Ivy Poisoning.

A perfectly harmless and exceedingly useful remedy for the inflammation caused by coming in contact with wild ivy is boric acid in solution. Make a solution from boric acid powder, four tea-spoonfuls dissolved in a pint of boiling water. When this is cold apply to the affected parts. The skin should be covered with gauze which can be bought by the roll in drug stores, kept constantly wet with cold boric acid solution. If the itching is very intense the parts may be sponged off with a weak solution of alcohol half water and half alcohol, when the gauze is changed. The gauze should be put on fresh quite frequently if there is much oozing from the little blebs (blisters). After the skin begins to heal and is fairly smooth a plain cold cream ointment may be kept on the skin.
