

E. H. S. Echoes
Contributed

Most of the students have fully recovered from the Thanksgiving vacation.

The first debate meeting was held Monday December 4th, and sixteen students have begun active work for the tryout on December 15.

The E. H. S. has branched out into the industrial club work. This is the most practical of any yet established in the school. Those who have entered the pig project will be the recipients of a free trip to the stock show in Portland, thanks to Mr. Ewing of the P. R. L. & P. Co.

"Thompson of the Varsity," one of the "classiest" college plays on the market will be presented by the students of the E. H. S. Mar. 17. This is a play with humor, love, honor and romance occupying the most important roles.

The wiring for the lights in the play shed has been put in and the floor will soon be finished, which the boys and girls also will find much more convenient than the pavilion which has heretofore been used for basket-ball.

E. W. Bartlett, of Estacada, kindly gave a very instructive talk to the civics class on "Municipalities and City Government."

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our thanks and appreciations to our many friends for the beautiful floral offerings and great kindness shown during the loss of our loved one, husband and father.

Mrs. Cassie Epperson and family,
Dufur, Or.

A new plank sidewalk will soon be constructed in front of the Estacada Post Office on Main Street, the work being held up for a few days until the council decides whether the new walk shall be built on the old or new street grade.

The attendance at Monday's Taxpayers' Meeting in Estacada was slightly reduced, owing to the road work going on in the Currinsville District 4, where several carloads of gravel were spread on the main road from the Milt Marshall place towards the Upton corner, the gravel being hauled from the cars at Estacada.

Conrad Krigbaum of Garfield last week purchased a Ford touring car through the agency of the Estacada Garage. Also the Garage delivered to Ben S. Patton a Ford touring car, replacing his runabout.

It remains for Ed. Boner of Estacada to land the handsomest rainbow trout of the season, when last Saturday he caught a 20 inch one in the race below the River Mill Dam.

The Three Fishermen
Or Who Got the Can

Lyrics—by John Page
Libretto—by Milt Marshall

* * *

Three men of Estacada,
On a cold winter's day
Went to the creek a fishing,
Just to pass the time away.
Milt, he took his jitney,
Cause the way was damp and long;
And as he wanted company,
Took Bob and John along.
At last they reached the Falls
And with skill that's known to man,
Drew forth the speckled beauties,
But Bob, he caught a can.
Ye Gods and little fishes,
More news to you I'll tell;
You should have seen Bob's blushes,
When he said "Boys don't you tell."

(Editor's Note) Since the above ditty was contributed to these columns, the three fishermen made a repeat trip to the Falls, with the result that Ye Editor landed two big salmon and the poets each caught a little undersized trout.

George District Votes 10 Mill Tax

As usual, the enterprising taxpayers of George Road District No. 9 at their annual meeting last Friday, voted a ten mill special tax and unanimously retained Fred Lins as supervisor. This special tax amounting to about $1650 will be spent in graveling and grading the main road, known as the Chris Anderson Road.

The upper Eagle Creek district voted a 5 mill tax and elected W. H. Douglass as supervisor.

On the same day, a meeting was held in Barton Road District No. 58, where the appropriation for a special tax was voted down.

Many farmers from this part of the county are this week attending the Livestock Show at the Portland Union Stock Yards, including a number of the school boys, the latter going as guests of Mgr. Frank Ewing of the Agricultural Department of the P. R. L. & P. Co. On Thursday, a special rate of 75c round trip was made by the railway people from Estacada and nearby points.

A baby girl arrived at the Will Closner home in Estacada, Friday morning, December 1st. Mother and daughter are reported to be getting along finely.
