The work on the play-shed, due to lack of laborers, is progressing rather slowly; but under the careful direction of Mr. Underwood, the boys expect to complete it this week.

We have not heard anything from Mr. Baker's hat lately, but, judging from dis-appearances, several objects of school property have gone to hunt it.

If you want to know anything about the feel of a fresh pompadour, ask Clyde Denny. According to a petition, which was drifting about the assembly hall last week, Clyde is very anxious to receive the "love and honor" which the girls promise to bestow upon him, providing he forfeit certain portions of his chief charm, his hair.

Although an epidemic of La Grippe is invading the town, no great increase of absence is noticeable in the high school.

The debate "try out" which occurred in the assembly hall on Friday the 14th, proved both beneficial and interesting. Those chosen on the debating team for this year were Lewis Jones, Ruby McWillis, Joe Demoy, Philip Adams, Lloyd Saling and John Schenk.

ISN'T THIS LOGICAL?

*T*hat no profit can be made on the sale of an article of JEWELRY, until all expenses incident to the sale are deducted, is the natural supposition — isn't this correct?

*N*ow consider—the higher the expense of a jeweler, the higher the selling price of an article of jewelry must be.

*F*urther—you are aware that my expenses in operating a jewelry establishment in Estacada are nothing as compared with the big jewelry houses in Portland and other cities.

*S*o—which one of us can make the quickest profit on a sale?

I can — of course!

*T*hat is why I am asking you to let me quote you prices on any article of jewelry, before you purchase elsewhere. I do not have the heavy expense of carrying a big stock, but I have the catalogs and can furnish you any article at a saving to you and with a fair profit to me and I guarantee satisfaction.

*C*onsider this now before you do your Christmas buying and let's get together and incidentally keep the home dollar in home circulation.

Big Dances for the Holidays

As usual, the coming holiday season will have much to offer the lovers of dancing, with three big parties scheduled during the eight days from Christmas Eve to New Years Eve.

The first affair will take place at Cogswell's Hall in Eagle Creek next Saturday evening, the 23rd, and a crowd of the Estacada young people are planning to join with the Eagle Creek dancers for that night. As banjo music for the step dances and violin for the waltzes is promised, a good time is assured.

On Christmas night, the 25th, at the Estacada Pavilion, the yearly Christmas Dance of the C. I. C. will take place, with Bronson's orchestra furnishing the music and many novel attractions promised.

The wind-up and grand finale of the season on New Years Eve, Saturday, December 30th, will be the Eighth Annual Ball, under the auspices of the Estacada Volunteer Fire Department. This affair is always the popular attraction of the winter season and not less than one-hundred couples are expected to join in the Grand March, as many young folks from Portland and nearby sections are planning to participate.

The public is cordially invited to all these affairs, and as there is plenty of time for rest and recuperation between, a big attendance is expected at all three dances.

Mrs. E. F. Jenkins and baby of Portland are visiting at the home of Mrs. E. E. Jenkins of Garfield.
