E. H. S. Echoes

Edited by Lena Cahill and Lloyd Saling
Hurrah for E. H. S. !!!

After losing two consecutive games last week the local basket tossers broke into the winning column by defeating James John High School in one of the most exciting games played here in several years. The playing was fast and furious throughout the entire game and not until the last minute was victory assured. Captain Denny starred for E. H. S. playing a splendid all around game. Schraeder was high point man for the visitors. Score-18 to 14. It should be added that the game was really saved by the E. H. S. guards, Otto Jannsen and Wil Bartlemay. If they had not held their men so well, the forwards would never have been able to win the game. All the boys played an unusually good game and it is hardly fair to discriminate in favor of any certain ones.

The Adelphics will give a patriotic program on Thursday, the 22nd. This date being Washington's Birthday, we hope the enthusiasm of the parents will be better manifested at this activity than here-to-fore.

The Websterian program, Friday was by far the best given by that society this year. Whether it be the result of the new committee, the new advisor, or merely new "pep", we are not in a position to say. However, it was not as well attended as we wish our programs to be. We believe we are doing admirable work and we desire the assurance of those who should be interested in us.

The student Body was treated to a little talk by a member of last year's graduating class, on Monday, Lloyd Ewalt being the said member. Not only his old school mates but also those who have entered the high school this year, felt more enthusiastic toward studies and student-body activities after having heard him.

22 to 16 is the score of the boys interclass basketball game, on Monday with Seniors defeating the Juniors.
