in which we are living

The opportunity to see, to know, and to do, was never greater. The opportunity for men to make the most of themselves, if they have it in them, was never so great as now.

However in these modern times before one can take full advantage of the opportunities presented for growth, for achievements, one needs the help and backing of a bank account.

Garfield Experiencing Thieving

For a year or so past, reports have been received of petty stealing in the Garfield district, with granaries and barns being pillaged.

During the last two weeks an added outbreak of this thieving has occurred, with the P. F. Standish barn being the latest sufferer, where a set of new single harness, a saddle, a set of steelyards and other articles were stolen.

A reward of $10 for evidence which will lead to the conviction of the thief is offered by the owner.

The Red Circle

This is not the title of any serial moving picture, but means that if a red circle is circumscribed about the yellow address label on the front of the News—BEWARE—for all non-paid-in-advance-subscriptions by April 1st, next, will be cancelled.

We don't want to lose a subscriber, but we do need the dollar per year, which figures less than 2c per week and we believe the News is worth it—don't you? So renew your subscription, right now if it is due.

Ely Buys Woodle Home

Through S. E. Wooster, the local real estate agent, a deal was put through last week, whereby John Ely of Currinsville becomes the owner of the J. P. Woodle home on Wade St. in Estacada.

This property consists of a fine home and four lots and within a short time, Mr. Ely and family will occupy same, while Mr. and Mrs. Woodle and family will move to their Upper Eagle Creek ranch, which was formerly the Howlett property.

Belgian Relief Entertainment

On next Saturday evening, March 31st, at the Garfield Grange, will be given an entertainment, the proceeds of which will go towards the Belgian Children's Relief Fund.

The attractions on the program will be the Estacada High School glee-club, with other musical and entertainment features. Admission will be 25c, with school children 10c. All are urged to come.

State Official Praises Play-Shed

J. A. Churchill, Supt. of Public Instruction of Oregon spent a few hours in Estacada last week, visiting the Estacada Public Schools.

Besides being well pleased with the flourishing condition of the schools, Mr. Churchill was enthusiastic in his praise of the play-shed, which innovation he claims is superior to any in the state.

Contemplate Hard Trip

Messrs. Frank Ewing, R. C. Deming and the editor are contemplating making a hundred mile trip into the mountains next week, going from Estacada to the Timothy Meadows cabin, near Clackamas Lake, where the water-gauge clock on the Oak Grove has to be rewound for its next six months run.

In as much as fully fifty miles of the trip will have to be made on snow-shoes, at least half a dozen blistered heels and lame legs are assured.

Cheese Factory Seems Assured

subscriptions, but do not feel that they should do other than offer a fair bonus and ultimately surrender their holdings to the farmer stock holders, leaving the cooperative factory entirely under the control of the farmers.

A meeting will be held at the Hotel Adams next Monday evening, April 2nd, at which time, following the dinner, the final organization of the cheese factory will be effected.

At this meeting, to which everyone is invited, will be considered the plans for a building, the machinery specifications and a permanent form of organization, with probably a permanent Board of Directors elected.

All parties anticipating attending the 35c dinner, which will precede the regular business meeting, are requested to notify either Fred Beckwith or Fred Bartholomew of Estacada, being the committee in charge.

If the capacity of the dining room is not sufficient to accommodate the crowd that will attend the business meeting, arrangements will be made to adjourn to larger quarters.

Every farmer is urged to attend and to come prepared to list his cows and subscribe for such stock as he can afford.

It is probable that at this meeting, several offers will be made for the collection and delivery of the milk, so that this important expense can be ascertained to the fraction of a cent.

N. L. S. Laurry of the Hotel Estacada returned this week from a short business trip in the southern part of the state.
