TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Owing to the damage done by stray chickens on my garden property in Terrace Addition, I am hereby giving notice to the owners, to keep same off my land.
P. Malzinini, River Mill, Or.

Dover Doings (Contributed)

The little daughter of H. Develin was severely bitten by a young dog last Wednesday, necessitating the services of a physician.

W. P. Roberts was in Portland and Oregon City for several days recently, transacting business.

Mrs. H. Tessman is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Jos. DeShazer.

The J. Strawbridge place has been leased to R. C. Frace, for a term of six years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Keith of Estacada are moving this week to Faraday, where they will take the house formerly occupied by O. O. James and family. For a time at least, Mr. Keith will take over the work at the power plant, which until recently was in charge of Mr. James.

The East Clackamas Supply Co. has this week put out a clever and useful advertisement, in the shape of a heavy paper shopping bag, with handles. This bag, which costs the Supply Company little more than an ordinary paper bag, is a convenience and should result in drawing the housewives for the morning's marketing.

Editor G. J. Taylor of Molalla, will occupy the pulpit at the Estacada M. E. Church next Sunday, Rev. Spiess preaching at Clarks.

Fred Robley of Faraday is now the owner of the three cows formerly owned by O. O. James.

Ed Harders of George lost a valuable cow last week, from some undiagnosed disease.
