

Dover Doings

(Contributed)

Bruce Schminky, who is attending the O. A. C. spent the weekend with his parents of this place.

Work on the building of the R. C. Frace home, on the former Strawbridge place will soon begin, as the lumber is now being hauled by Fred Anderson, Joseph De Shazer and Mr. Frace.

Dover experienced a runaway one day last week, when a horse belonging to a Portland salesman, took fright at a watering trough and was only brought to a stand still by the Updegrave boys, after a mile run. No harm was done to horse or vehicle.

Mr. and Mrs. Kitzmiller and Walter Kitzmiller motored up the Columbia Highway Sunday to Bonneville.

The Dover School Board met Friday and arranged for some slight alterations in the school building and the installation of some play apparatus.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Udell and family spent Easter at the home of her father, James Gibson of Barton.

Chicken Stealing Still Prevalent

The epidemic of chicken stealing in this part of the county, which in the last few weeks has represented many dozen fowls, last week took on a wholesale attitude, with several Eagle Creek farmers being the losers.

The stealing has not been confined to any one district, with reports first coming in from Alspaugh, then from Springwater and Viola and last week from Eagle Creek and Barton.

Whoever the thief is, he is a clever one, leaving no traces of his work, other than the empty hen coops and probably uses a machine in getting away with his spoils.

Peter Ruhl of George spent a few days last week in Portland on a business and pleasure trip.

F. E. Beckwith, The Jeweler

A. L. Lasswell, assistant cashier of the Estacada State Bank, last week leased the modern bungalow on Currin Street, owned by Mrs. H. V. Adix. Until the latter part of the month, the lessee will feather the nest and temporarily occupy the house as bachelor quarters.

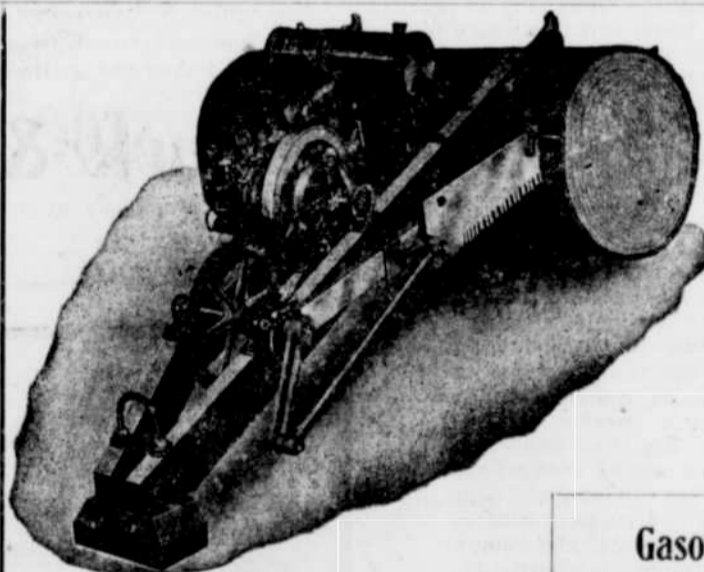

C. M. Davis of Springwater this week purchased a Rock Island tractor, which will be used on his farm, the machine having arrived on Tuesday's freight from Portland.

Mr. Wm. Dale of Estacada is reported to be steadily on the road to recovery and is able to sit up a few hours at a time at present.

B. C. Looney of Molalla spent a few days visiting among relatives in Currinsville and Estacada this week.

Frank Ewing of Springwater and R. M. Standish of Estacada returned Saturday from a five days trip in the mountains, having covered about eighty miles of mud and snow covered trail. They were unable to reach their destination, Timothy Meadows, owing to the slushy condition of the deep snows beyond the Intake Cabin on the Oak Grove.

Mrs. I. D. Wright of Estacada has been spending several days in Portland recently, visiting her mother, Mrs. Hill, who last week successfully underwent an operation at a private hospital.
