MORE MEN

Are appreciating the fact they do not have to accept conditions as fixed by forces over which they have no control. These men are looking to the morrow for better individual standing and are making a concentrated and intelligent effort to overcome their present handicap, to improve their financial affairs.

This is where our bank service will help the earnest man. It protects and conserves his income, assists him to build the small surplus from each transaction into a lump sum which he can use as a working force, use to earn him more money.

Lands New Species Fish

Charles Bronson of Estacada last week brought into town a 32 inch long fish, caught in the Clackamas near the Upper Dam, which fish was unknown to the few local anglers who saw it.

This fish was about the size of a steel-head trout, weighing from ten to twelve pounds; of brown color with no spots and heavily scaled, but having a mouth similar to that of a trout.

Belgian Relief Reply

The following letter is selfexplanatory and completely dispels that excuse assigned by a few for not contributing to the Belgian Relief Fund — namely: "that the relief never reaches the Belgians"

May 1, 1917.

Mr. A. O. Whitcomb, Estacada, Oregon.

Dear Sir:-

We are in receipt of your favor of the 27th of April, enclosing check for $49.50, 3rd remittance for the Belgian Children's Fund, for which please accept our thanks.

The way is still open for using every cent we can receive. Mr. Herbert Hoover, Chairman of the Commission, long ago anticipated the present situation between Germany and the United States and arranged accordingly, as you without doubt have noticed by the daily press. Of course an occasional food ship is sunk by either a mine or a blundering captain of a submarine, but relief ships are arriving almost daily now at Rotterdam, and you may be sure they are very necessary. Keep in mind also that perchance an occasional shipload of food is lost at sea by any cause, it is fully insured and the money value is not destroyed.

Sincerely yours,
The Literary Digest,
New York.

Autoists Beware

While the only stretch of hard surfaced pavement in this portion of the county, comprises one block in the business district of Estacada—autoists must remember that owing to the shortness of said stretch and the crowded condition of that thorofare—speeding is not allowed.

The Estacada city regulations limit speeding to 15 miles per hour, but many drivers, after plugging along on the rough and muddy country roads, forget to turn off that excess power, when reaching the concrete pavement, consequently coming into town with a grand burst of speed, skidding and burnt gasoline.

As there are many children and numbers of adults continually crossing Broadway, care must be exercised on that street.

This applies just as much to the town drivers, several of whom cover the block at a 40 mile clip and many of the town children run back and forth like chickens on a country road.

Mrs. Dave Eschelman and son, left Monday for Corvallis, where they will visit for a conple of weeks and on their return to Estacada, will prepare to leave for East Scobey, Montana, where they will make their home.

Refuse Cans To Be Placed

It isn't so much the actual good done at such a gathering as this week's Clean-Up-Day, that really counts, as the good results obtained by community co-operation, with everyone working for a common cause.

Yet—it would be wise if the army regulations relative to the scattering of—refuse in public places was observed by us civilians. The army regulations are so strict that few enlisted men even thoughtlessly drop peelings, envelopes, papers or other refuse on the streets, not only from fear of the penalty, but because they are trained to neatness.

Estacadians and our visiting neighbors are asked to help keep the city clean and not drop papers and peelings on the sidewalks and in the streets.

The Council has ordered that proper refuse receptacles be placed near the postoffice and on other public corners and the public is urged to use same.

Laurrys Leaving Estacada Hotel

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. S. Laurry, who for years past have been responsible for the high reputation maintained by the Hotel Estacada, are this week relinquishing the management, in favor of Mrs. C. E. Morgan of Portland, who will conduct the hotel as formerly, but without dining service.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurry are leaving in a few days for a trip to Myrtle Point and other southern Oregon towns, where, if conditions are satisfactory, they may continue in the hotel business.

If they do not decide to locate in southern Oregon, they intend to return to Estacada, and ultimately improve and develope their Springwater farm, with the intention of making it their permanent home.

While the people of this community wish only success to the Laurrys they inwardly hope that Southern Oregon will not appeal to them and that Springwater will be their future home.

Crowds To Attend Eagle Creek Picnic

If favorable weather is current on next Saturday, May 19th a record breaking attendance is looked for at the annual picnic of the Eagle Creek Grange, to which everyone is invited.

State Master C. E. Spence will be the principal speaker of the day. The customary picnic lunches with free coffee will be in vogue, winding up with a big dance at Cogswell's Hall in the evening.

The News office is this week in receipt of a large blue print map of the State of Oregon, showing the contemplated road building under the proposed $6,000,000 Bond Issue. This map was donated by Mr. Lauryy of Estacada, through the Oregon Hotel Men's Association.
