Eagle Creek Notes

Contributed

Mrs. Martha Dauchy is visiting with relatives over this way.

On Saturday, Eagle Creek Grange held its regular meeting with about forty members present. A short session was held before noon, when, after partaking of a fine chicken dinner, work was resumed. R. J. Werner, of Fairview, was present and gave a talk on the lime situation. Mrs. Phillips, the lecturer, presented a very interesting program.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Thomas, Mrs. Annie Littlepage and James Bell, of Sandy, and Frank Ewing, of Springwater, were Grange visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Douglass motored to Oregon City and Portland Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holder and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Morgan of Estacada, were entertained at dinner Sunday, by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Woodle.

Mrs. Viola Douglass made her sister, Mrs. A. W. Cooke, of Damascus, a visit Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sersanous of Portland, motored out to E. Naylor's on Sunday.

Mrs. M. E. Judd is now staying with her daughter, Mrs. John Douglass.

Mr. Marston sold H. S. Gibson some cattle last week.

S. A. Douglass was in Eagle Creek recently, the guest of relatives.

John C. Peterson of Estacada is this week building a plank sidewalk surrounding his premises. This walk in the Spring will be replaced with a cement one, after the ground is perfectly settled.

Postmaster W. A. Heylman of Estacada has been having great luck lately with the speckled beauties of the Clackamas, having last week landed one trout 18 inches long and 9 inches around the waist line, and several others slightly smaller.

STRAYED or STOLEN—Light Jersey Heifer, 2 year old. Phone Walter Lemon, Garfield.

Complaint has been made against the running-at-large of a vicious ram in the vicinity of Estacada and Faraday. This ram last week attacked several children and was only driven off by the united efforts of Albert Adlon and a companion, who were compelled to use clubs and rocks.

James Craft of Viola, who enlisted in the Hospital Corps last June, returned to the Mare Island Navy Yards last week, following a 40 days leave of absence on account of illness, most of which time was spent at the parental home in Viola.

Miss Virginia Scott of Estacada, entertained a number of her friends last Saturday afternoon, at a matinee party at the Family Theatre, in honor of her birthday the 19th. In the evening the young folks repaired to her home, where they enjoyed games and refreshments.

Al J. Darling of Eugene, who formerly was in business in Estacada, spent a few days here this week, renewing old friendships.

The Estacada Garage report that their mechanical department is now in charge of W. J. Kelly, formerly of Portland. Mr. Kelly is an expert in all phases of the work, having had twelve years practical experience in the Ford and Buick factories.

Guy Graham of Seattle was in Estacada for a few days this week, prior to his return to Seattle, where he has enlisted as draughtsman in the aviation corps and expects to leave for San Antonio, Texas.
