

HELLO

Everybody!

We're

BACK AGAIN

Yes, we've gotten over our misunderstandings and are pleased to announce that both advertiser and publisher have awakened to a realization that team work beats individual effort every time.

Since our temporary separation, both advertiser and publisher have learned the lesson of the necessity of sticking together, working together and plugging together, for it means profit to us both.

This same lesson holds true in an even larger and more profitable way in the need of all interests in this community working shoulder to shoulder for private and public advancement.

This is commonly called "cooperation", but it really means, burying the hatchets, forgetting the petty quarrels and jealousies and joining forces.

We needed the newspaper and its publicity just as much as the newspaper needed our advertising and financial support — so we're together again and we don't care who knows it.

As to that BOOSTING SPIRIT page, it is coming out next week in all its glory and we hope it will be welcomed again by the readers of the News.

Sure, we're doing business at the same old stand and have been, but we want to do more and we know that advertising and profits believe in cooperation.

So, watch for the BOOSTING SPIRIT, with a little more Boost and a little more Spirit in it next week.

Parent - Teacher Association Estacada division of the Red Cross to meet with the domestic art class, for mutual benefit.

The Estacada Parent-Teacher Association convened at the high school auditorium Friday evening, with Mrs. Fred Robley, the president, presiding.

The social committee had spared no pains to extend an invitation to all interested in the schools, with a result that numbers of visitors were present from all nearby districts.

Refreshments and a social hour were enjoyed. Miss Schrepel extended an invitation to the Es-

An interesting talk on the "Movies" was given by Prof. Kilpatrick of the Extension Dept. of the U. of O., the speaker thoroughly covering the subject from the first appearance of moving pictures to the present, showing the educational advantages to both students and the general public.

The subject for the next meeting will be "Good Literature for Children."
