

What Have You To Sell

AT Public Auction?

The exact date of the big public auction to be held in Estacada, under the auspices of the Estacada Clearing House, will be announced next week, probably occurring on Saturday, March 2nd or the Saturday following.

Colonel W. S. Wood of Vancouver, of state-wide reputation as an auctioneer, has agreed to conduct the sale, but wants to know exactly the date set.

The Clearing House can not set this date until the public furnishes us a list of the livestock or articles which they wish to sell. A list of thousands of articles is wanted, so that the advance advertising throughout the county will attract buyers from all districts.

We already have listed horses, cows, pigs, wagons and many household and farm articles—but we want ten times as much more.

TELEPHONE, WRITE or CALL at the Clearing House and tell us what you will have to sell at this public auction.

DO IT RIGHT NOW, for it cant be delayed!

Colonel Wood writes—"You get the crowd and the goods and I'll do the rest." And if he conducts it as he did the C. M. Davis auction in Springwater last Spring,—we believe him. He also says—"Get some of the ladies organizations to serve a cafeteria lunch, as they can make some easy money. I'll donate 5% of my profits on the day, to the ladies, the Red Cross or any charity."

Parties now having goods for sale at the Clearing House are asked to advise us if they are willing that same be sold at auction, if not sold sooner.

The display in the Clearing House now comprises some of the best bargains in implements, stoves, ranges, carpets, separators, furniture, etc. ever seen in this community, with John Page, the new manager, keeping the store open during regular business hours.

We want more articles for sale and want you to examine our bargains before purchasing new wares.

A basket ball game between E. H. S. and Springwater was played Wednesday night.

It was an exciting game and even if E. H. S. did not win, they made Springwater hustle around pretty fast. Albert Lichthorn made himself famous by shooting a large number of baskets.

Saturday evening, February 2nd, E. H. S. was going to play a game of basket ball with Sandy high school, but owing to the absence of several members of the latter team, were unable to play; so Estacada played with the Sandy town team. Most of the Sandy fellows were strong, stalwart men, thus rendering it impossible for E. H. S. to win. The score was 16 to 30.

The E. H. S. girls' basket ball team also went to Sandy with the intention of playing with the Sandy high school girls, but for some unknown reason Sandy refused to play.

The mid-term examinations were held Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of last week. All those getting an average of 95% in department and 90% in their studies were denied the privilege of taking them. Many of the Freshmen and Sophomores could be seen going to class with brave expressions on their faces, but rather weak "kneed". However, the majority passed the examinations with honor as they were not very hard.

Morris Cahill of Eagle Creek, now stationed at Ft. Seward, Alaska with Company A of the 14th Infantry, acknowledges receipt of the "home paper" and tells about how welcome it is; sends regards to all friends, and reports the climate there varying in a few hours from 40 degrees above to 15 degrees below zero. But he admits life at an army fort is monotonous and only wishes he could be transferred "across the pond."

Will Palmateer of Morgan, Oregon, after a visit among relatives and friends in this community for the past sixty days, left for home Saturday.
