

Priscilla Red Cross Dance

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the Red Cross Dance to be given Saturday evening, March 30th at Cogwell's Hall in Eagle Creek. This dance will be under the auspices of the Currinsville Priscilla Club, which is a guarantee of a good time and "good eats" for all.

A. Foehlinger of Milwaukie, who a few months ago moved to near Milwaukie, was in Estacada Saturday attending to a few matters in connection with the conduct of his acreage property here.

T. P. McAuley of Portland, who lately purchased the Wooster farm in Springwater, spent last week on the property attending to the proper pruning of the prune orchard, as he is a man of years of experience in prune culture. Mr. McAuley and family expect to move onto the place the early part of next month.

Amos Millard of Springwater, of the Horner Millard Lumber Company left Monday for the Bremerton Navy Yard, having lately enlisted in the Navy. While Mr. Millard's withdrawal from the company will be keenly felt by his partners, they expect to continue the business as formerly, with his interests being safeguarded during his term of service and his place open for him on his return.

W. C. Smith & Co. of Eagle Creek, whose store was destroyed by fire last winter and who are now occupying temporary quarters in a nearby building, are reported to have purchased the general store stock of Thomas Eaden of Viola.

Traffic Manager F. D. Hunt of the P. R. L. & P. Co., was an Estacada business visitor last Friday.

Fred Bates of Garfield, who last winter moved to Eagle Creek to enter the lumber business, now has his mill in operation on the Smith timber along the Clackamas.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Roberts of Emporia, Kansas, who for the past three months have been visiting among relatives in Garfield, left last week for home, via Seattle and other Washington points.

Will Still, Eagle Creek's representative in the U. S. Aviation Service is reported to be in a San Antonio Hospital suffering from inflammatory rheumatism.

Merril Beauchamp, son of Mrs. W. C. Smith of Eagle Creek, has been promoted to the rank of top-sergeant and is at Camp Funston, Georgia.

In a letter received by his brother, James Folsom of Springwater, L. E. (Ed) Folsom of the U. S. Signal Corps, stationed at Brook Field, Texas, mentions his recent appointment as a sergeant. Ed's patriotic letter tells of his enjoyment of the work and mentions that Mrs. Folsom is now making her home nearby, having left Oregon a few weeks ago.

Louis Mills of Pocatello, Idaho was a guest for a few days recently at the home of his uncle A. J. Mills of Estacada.

Harry Reid of Garfield, who is the only recruit from this community among this county's quota of fifteen men in response to the last call, is prepared to leave this week for Camp Lewis, where he will be stationed temporarily.

A. H. Anderson of Eagle Creek has lately purchased a new grain drill and land plaster sower, which should aid in the production of increased crops this year. Mr. Anderson sold his former drill, which was of smaller size, to Henry Heiple of Currinsville, through the agency of the Estacada Clearing House.

Miss Myrtle Looney of Currinsville was last week operated upon for appendicitis at a Portland hospital. Miss Looney stood the ordeal well and is now well along towards recovery.

Oren Ballou of Eagle Creek, who has been working at the shipyards, last week returned to recuperate from the effects of an accident to his foot, caused by a heavy timber falling on it.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Deming of Estacada, after an absence of several weeks at Seattle and nearby points, where Mr. Deming was investigating some of the Washington canneries, returned home Friday.

Ken Bartlett returned to Camp Lewis Sunday night, after spending the week-end at his home in Estacada.

Oregon's resources are being neglected.

Distribution of war expenditures is unequal.

Some communities are going to be hard hit because their natural sources of income have been cut off and they will have no money with which to meet the additional taxation and war bond quotas.

It is poor business. Put business methods and intelligence in office.

Mr. Farmer

With horses and wagon it takes you from half a day to a whole day to make a round trip to town, once or twice a week, to do your necessary buying of supplies. In other words, it costs you from $2.50 to $5.00 everytime you make a trip, at present wage for a man and team.

The same trip by automobile, driving in either the

would take you from one to two hours, at a cost of your time and auto expense of from 50c to $1. And in the mean time your team can be working on the farm.

Let us show you where it will be an economy and a pleasure for you to own a Chevrolet or Dodge.
