Second Red Cross Drive Gets Strong Local Support

The exact amounts contributed by the several school districts of this part of the county towards the Second Red Cross War Fund, during last week's drive, may never be known, nevertheless all contributions went to the Red Cross, whether credit is given the individuals and their respective districts or not.

All canvassing committees agree that soliciting for this drive was much easier than the work in former drives, for the people met them more than half way and donated on a more generous scale than earlier in the war, indicating that all are awakening to a realization of their responsibilities.

The following list shows the amounts donated by the home districts and indicates a creditable exceeding of their quotas. The exact amounts cannot be given, as several hundred dollars are not included, which represent the donation of the wages of many clerks and judges at the past primary election, these wages having been assigned over to the Red Cross, through several Oregon City channels.

The list furthermore is based upon the returns up to Wednesday, with more contributions coming each day.

One feature of the drive was the donation of $39.90 by the Garfield Band, being the proceeds from the entertainment. This same district, No. 12, also profited by the sale of two pictures which were donated by one of their citizens; the first picture having brought $5 at a raffle at the band entertainment and the second having realized $27.50 at a raffle held at the Elk's picnic in Estacada on Sunday, when Bob Duncan, former Garfield boy and a member of the B. P. O. E. committee, took charge of the affair.

The districts, captains, quota and amount raised for each district, is as follows:

Garfield 68, Mrs. Ella Tracy, $52; $66.60.
 Garfield 12, Miss Helen Wooster, $92; $121.90.
 Estacada 108, R. M. Standish, $382; $558.75.

ELKS'S PICNIC A HUMMER

Moving Pictures Taken Of Liberation Of Namesakes

Under ideal weather conditions, the annual picnic of the Portland B. P. O. E. was held in Estacada Park on Sunday. About fifteen hundred people spent the day in and about the grounds, making the trip to Estacada by train and autos.

This is the first big picnic held in the local park since boozing days and judging from the orderliness of the crowds and the apparent good time had by all, the traditional suit case with its burden of bottles is no longer necessary to a successful day's festivities.

The B. P. O. E. had planned an elaborate program and plenty of forms of entertainment, with "Elk scrip" used in the purchase of everything on the grounds, including the roulette and paddle wheel chances, dancing, pop, candy, cigars and ice cream.

Many hundreds of the people from this community also joined in the fun, with the youngsters remaining on the grounds after the Portland crowd had left, where they helped deplete the surplus supplies of ice cream and gathered up thousands of dollars worth of the then worthless scrip.

On Saturday afternoon the band of Elk from the Portland City Park was brought to the Estacada stock yards by special train, where they remained on exhibit until Tuesday morning. These animals were in charge of Government Paeker Dee Wright of Wapinitia and his helpers, who had previously broken the animals to halters and lead ropes.

On Tuesday the actual liberation of the animals began, with Forester Wallace and crew of local boys acting as escorts. The elk were taken from the Estacada yards through Garfield to the vicinity of the Duncan place at the top of the North Fork Hill, from where the trip into the mountains was begun.

Several moving picture outfits were on hand both Sunday and Tuesday taking views of the animals and their mounted escorts, among the photographers being State Biologist Wm. L. Finley and the Pathe representative.

Draft Registrations June 8th

No excuse will be accepted for failure of any young man, who has attained the age of 21 years since the last registration, for not registering on June 5th next. The burden of informing himself of the time and place of such registration is by law placed upon the registrant himself and failure to register is punishable by imprisonment up to one year in jail.

The registration for Clackamas County residents will be at the office of the county clerk at Oregon City, on June 5th, from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m.
