Estacada Man

Takes Milk Bath

For many years it has been a practice among certain world famous beauties to take daily milk baths, but it remained for Jim Smith of Estacada to take up the fad locally.

On Friday night Jim was asked to remove the lacteal fluid from a bovine impounded in the city pound. Jim and a six gallon pail started on the job, with the gentle bossey filling the pail to the brim.

As the milker felt he was entitled to a few drops more by strenuous stripping and as the cow remembered that her output belonged to her rightful owner, she cut loose with one leg, depositing the six gallons plus the strippings into Jim's lap, completely drenching him.

About fifteen hundred men, women and children spent Sunday last at Estacada Park at the annual picnic of the Columbia River Shipyard Employees. Original arrangements contemplated a crowd of about four thousand, but scarcity of cars prevented the P. R. L. & P. Co., from handling such a crowd.

Mrs. A. W. Botkin of Garfield is a happy woman these days, as her father, Charles Wanzer of Omaha, who she has not seen for five years, arrived Saturday and contemplates making an extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Bates of Estacada returned Saturday, from a two week's visit at the home of their daughter at Ashland, Or.

Mrs. Emma Thomas of Eagle Creek was pleasantly surprised Friday by the unexpected arrival of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Duncan of Clinton, Iowa.

Garfield Loganberries

Yield Big Crop

R. C. Deming of Estacada is an unusually busy man these days, for with a score of pickers now harvesting his Garfield loganberry crop, he and his machine work overtime in delivering the fruit to the Estacada shipping point.

Mr. Deming's fourteen acres of loganberries and raspberries is one of the best small fruit places in this county, with an estimated yield of from 1000 to 1500 crates now being harvested. These berries are excellent ones, despite the lack of late rains and are commanding from $1.50 to $2.00 per crate on the Portland market.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Estacada City Council held Tuesday evening, most of the session was devoted to arranging the proper conduct of the city's water privileges, with strict orders being enforced as to advance payment of water rent by users.

Miss Portia Steel of Vancouver, Washington is a guest this week at the home of her former college friend, Mrs. R. C. Deming of Estacada.

Joe Cahill of Camp Lewis spent Sunday at the parental home in Eagle Creek.

Victor Adix and the baby son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dubois of Estacada are this week's recruits in the measles epidemic.

Mrs. E. J. Shankland of Currinsville last week returned to her home after an absence of several months, spent among relatives and friends in various parts of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lang and J. J. Fitzgerald of Portland were Sunday guests at the Henry Githens home in Currinsville.

Miss Bessie Wallace, sister of district forester, Herman Wallace of Estacada made a trip to the Oak Grove Ranger station Monday, where she will be in charge of the telephone switch board.

C. E. Dubois of Estacada, who is engaged in lumbering operations at Donald, Oregon spent a few days at his home last week.

George and Alfred Guthrie were visitors at the home of Mrs. E. C. Suter of Eagle Creek last week. The guests now residing in Portland but having lived in Eagle Creek several years ago.

Sergeant Ken Bartlett of Estacada is now enroute to France, having with his company left Camp Lewis a couple of weeks ago bound for an eastern port.
