Burglars Dread a Noise.

"Noise is the greatest enemy of the burglar and is what he most fears. Bear that in mind if you believe a thief has entered your home."

So says Frank McCarrick, lieutenant in Manhattan's downtown detective headquarters, whose long years in the police department give weight to his statements.

"The best of alarms in a household," he continued, "is a glass or chinaware pitcher or similar vessel. Slam it through the window and its crash above will be followed by another as the missile falls to the street or the areaway below."

"Never grapple with a midnight prowler, for he is prepared for such eventualities and has it on you. Generally no qualm of conscience would come between him and murder if there was danger of his being caught."

Estacada Schools
Open September 9th

The 1918-19 year of the Estacada public schools will begin September 9th and all students who can, are requested to enroll before that date.

Several changes are contemplated which will improve the facilities of the schools; among them being the establishment of a commercial course, including book-keeping, stenography and typewriting. There is a possibility that if sufficient students are enrolled, a course in military training will be offered for both the boys and girls.

Improvements are suggested covering the removal of the boys' lockers down stairs in the high school building and the enclosing of the end of the hall leading to the girls' locker. Cupboards will likely be built in the domestic science department and cabinets added for supplies and office equipment.

Joseph Douglass of Estacada has been engaged as janitor, which assures a careful upkeep of the grounds and buildings.

The school garden is improved since the rains, but needs cultivation. Those children in charge of the work should attend to this cultivation and some co-operative plan can be arranged to facilitate the work. All school gardeners are entitled to a service flag, which they may obtain by application to the superintendent.

This year of all others should see every child of school age returning to school the very first day and remaining throughout the year. England learned to its sorrow that it was a mistake to allow children to drop out of school to pursue other work.

Any boy or girl is worth far more to his or her country if educated and trained.
