AND NEWS ITEMS

Will the person who borrowed the yard stick from the News office kindly return the same.

Colonel Thomas Jefferson Lewis, Inspector General, was in town Saturday, accompanied by his secretary. He came here on government business.

Otis Wagner's condition has shown marked improvement lately. Sunday he was able to sit up in a chair for a while, and also to take a few steps around the room, which he has not been able to do since his operation.

L. A. Lasswell accompanied by his wife, were week-end visitors in Estacada. He is expecting shortly to receive orders to go across the big pond. Mrs. Lasswell has a position in the First State Bank of Portland.

In a letter to his parents, written from "Somewhere in France", Joseph Demoy writes, "If the Kaiser holds out much longer, I will be able to drop some of my compliments on him." Joe is serving with the 218th Aero Squadron.

Leroy D. Walker, cashier of the State Bank of Portland, who is also interested in our local bank, called on the editor last Thursday as we were going to press. Mr. Walker was here on business and among other things was advocating the claims of Conrad P. Olson for justice of the Supreme court. He also spoke very flatteringly of the News, which was gratifying to its editor, who like other mortals, prefers bouquets to brickbats.

Lisle Wagner returned home Friday from the Philippines, where he has been engaged for some years in government work. This is only his second visit home in nineteen years. He does not expect to return to the islands.

Miss Myla Chambers of Portland spent Sunday as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jacques in Lower Garfield. Miss Chambers is a graduate of St. Helen's Hall, Portland and was a student when Mrs. Jacques was an instructor at that institution.

A. G. Ames the government hunter, arrived home Monday noon for a short stay. He reports that it has been very stormy in the mountains, and that a tree had fallen on him while making his rounds. Fortunately beyond bruising his neck somewhat, he suffered no severe damage.

Mrs. F. A. Beach of Fort Dodge, Iowa, is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Sparks. Mrs. Beach is a friend of long standing of Mrs. Sparks, and naturally the visit is much enjoyed by both, having plenty to talk about with each other of former friends and former times.

Two carloads of prunes have been shipped this week. One of twelve tons by Howell Bros. of Viola, and one of forty tons by P. E. Linn of Garfield. Many more carloads are yet to be shipped from here. It is estimated that in the Garfield school district alone, the crop is valued at twenty five thousand dollars.

Mrs. Lena Underwood returned for a flying visit here last Saturday. She has been packing apples at Underwood, Wash., to which place she returned on Sunday. She reports her son Lester, whose arm was broken by a fall, just before they went away, as much better. They will return in about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Coop, of Currinsville, received a notice the first of this week from a commanding officer which stated that their son Orion had landed safely over seas. Orion enlisted at Portland last June in the marine service. He has earned the rating of "marksman," for which Uncle Sam pays a bonus of $3 a month above the regular privates pay.

Edward Shearer of Garfield, has been appointed Poultry Husbandman for the Estacada district. This a move on part of the government to stimulate the poultry industry, in order to conserve the use of other meats, by the increased use of chickens and eggs. He has received a quantity of literature on the subject, for free distribution. Those requiring the same, please leave names and addresses at News office.

J. H. Miller the blacksmith, is recovering from a severe attack of erysipelas in face and head. It was brought on by being hit on the forehead by a horse. It laid him up for two weeks.

Mr. M. W. Ware of Denver, Colorado, has purchased the 108 acre farm known as the Henry Epperson farm, but lately owned by C. M. Mattoon. Mr. Ware intends to take possession at once and make it his home. Mr. Mattoon owns another fine farm near the one just sold on which he resides. The deal was made through the S. E. Wooster Real Estate Agency, of this city.
