

Chaplain Lieut. Givens spoke to the High School and also the grades Thursday morning of last week. He awakened considerable interest in army life and its effect as a character builder. Chaplain Givens is always a popular speaker and the school likes to hear him.

The First Christmas

"And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, goodwill to men." St. Luke.

Closing Days for Christmas Holidays

music. In this way, all the boys whether musical or not, became familiar more or less with a high standard of music. The masters, boys, and invited friends attended in state, everyone in full evening dress so that it was quite a function. The men and older boys appeared in swallow tailed coats while the younger wore Eton jackets. The audience was a most appreciative one, and those who acquitted themselves well, were sure of hearty applause.

The following morning the annual old boys football match took place. Football was different there, from what it is here. The teams numbered fifteen on each side, and the rules varied among different schools. The two principal schemes were "Rugby" and "Association." At the school the writer attended, the scheme was a sort of combination between these two. The old boys would send down a team to play the first school fifteen. Sometimes the old boys would number some of the crack football players in England. In those days there was no "rooting," altho the boys would cheer their own men on a good play. But they would also cheer a good play of their opponents. Nobody cared much however, whether the school or the old boys won, for it was all in the family anyway.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

That evening the announcement of the result of the examinations was given out, and prizes to those who had won them. For each class there was a first and second prize, and also one for term's work. Marks were given during the term and the boy who had received the highest marks during the term, until the examinations, received a prize.

The boys who obtained the first and second prizes werethose whose term marks added to their examination marks, placed them first and second in order in the class. The prizes were books beautifully bound in leather, and very appropriately usually in calf.

After the prize giving ended, the headmaster made his good-bye address and then the boys disbanded singing school songs and generally making merry. They did not sleep much that night on account of excitement and were up bright and early the next morning to take the train for home. And as it pulled out, they would all join in the old school song, "Domum, domum, dulce domum," the English of which is, "Home, home, sweet home."
