CASCADE GARAGE

Cascade Garage Changes Ownership

A business change of some importance will take effect next month, S. Pesznecker having sold out his interest in the Cascade Garage to Roy Wilcox. Mr. Pesznecker will however continue to work with the firm as head of the mechanical force, while Mr. Wilcox will attend to the office and sales departments. In this way better service will be given to the patrons, as Mr. Pesznecker found he could not attend to both satisfactorily.

The development of this business is an interesting example of a big oak growing from a small acorn, as it was started by Mr. Pesznecker only three or four years ago in a room 10x10, in the building adjoining Dr. Morse's office. In two months he was able to move into more commodious quarters two doors further south. The present handsome building was erected by Dr. Adix and leased by Mr. Pesznecker in 1917. The business has been constantly increasing ever since as Mr. Pesznecker is an exceptionally skilled mechanic and there is no work in his line that he cannot do in a thoroughly efficient manner.

He has an interesting history being a native of Hungary, where he learned his trade through an arduous apprenticeship. Having served his three years in the Austrian army, in 1902 sought the shores of America, to get away from the exacting conditions of his home land, and enable his boys to be free from military servitude.

When he first arrived he worked for the General Electrical Co. of Schenectady, N. Y. But about ten years ago, he came to Oregon and settled on a farm in the Garfield district. After a number of years he concluded, he had better resume his trade and so moved to town and engaged in business as above mentioned. In manner he is very pleasant and accommodating, and a booster for the interests of his home town. His family of boys have grown up around here, the two older ones are working for themselves, while the youngest is going to school. Mrs. Pesznecker has worked as hard as her husband and aided him materially in acquiring their present prosperous condition, which we hope will continue to increase, and that they may long enjoy.

Mr. Wilcox is well and favorably known as this is his home vicinity. He entered the army and was engaged in the Spruce Division in Clatsop county, from which he was recently discharged. Mrs. Wilcox is the present librarian. The NEWS extends its best wishes for his successful business career in the Cascade Garage.

ELWOOD NEWS

Omitted last week.

Walter Cox sold seven head of beef cattle to Beattie of Beaver Creek.

Walter Cox and George Brown delivered a dressed hog in Oregon City last week.

Mrs. Ella Rotter of Portland is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. C. Bittner.

Stanley Turel and Mr. Mueller are each making preparations to build houses on their homesteads.

Pupils of the Elwood School, purchased three croquet sets and a volley ball, with the money they raised last year by a social.

Mrs. Hazel Vallen is working for her sister, Mrs. Emily Rowan of Colton, a baby daughter having arrived there February 7th.

John Putz and a crew of men are doing some road work, in the vicinity. Some places were almost impassible with the mail, several others were about as bad, but not being on the mail route they will be left for the present.

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the Granatzki home Saturday evening, in honor of their younger daughter's birthday. About twenty-seven guests were present and remained to the wee sma hours when they departed for their homes, wishing Violet many more happy birthdays.
