CHAPTER 1

Helen Thurston is the daughter of Gen. Thurston, financier who has invented a valuable patent for granulating gasoline. The Thurston mansion is near the city of Landport. Living with General Thurston and his daughter is Pitts, a private secretary.

Foreign crooks corrupt Pitts and he falls in with plans of their chief, Valquez, operating with "The Leech," "The Barron" and "The Hare," to steel Thurston's patents. They rob the express train on which the plans are being transported, stealing the train.

Mesdames A. E. Sparks and M. H. Evans took the early train to Portland, Tuesday.

Henry La Barre proprietor of Log La Barre, made a pleasant call at this office Monday.

Leroy Walker president of our bank, was here on Friday from Portland. The News acknowledges a call.

Mrs. Reed Woodworth and son Myron are spending a few days visiting relatives at Newberg and Portland.

An Epworth League was organized last week and next Sunday evening at the public service the officers will be installed.

H. C. Stephens leaves the latter part of the week on a business trip to Medford, to be gone several days. Mrs. Stephens will accompany him.

By an error the titles of the films at the Star theatre as advertised last week, were those for this week, hence their repetition again in this week's ad.

Mrs. Jennie Wolcott, of Portland, representing the Nu Bone Corset Co., visited Estacada Saturday. She is planning a visit here shortly to demonstrate to our ladies the advantages of the corset whose sale she is promoting.

J. W. Reed is thinking of establishing in connection with his garage an aerodome, after seeing the flying circus the other day in Portland. He informs us he knows of several high flyers in the vicinity whom he thinks would be likely to want planes.

The NEWS was in error last week, when it reported that the Estacada Clearing House had engaged another store. John Page who has been in charge of it, has severed his connection and started up for himself in the store building adjoining I. M. Park.

Roy Wilcox of the Cascade garage reports that business is still booming for him. This week he sold a new Dodge car to George Judd, a new Chevrolet Baby Grand to Walter Douglass and a used Ford to R. A. McFarlane all of Eagle Creek, and also a new 490 Chevrolet to Mellard Sarver of Estacada.

The high school student body will present its annual play, "All-of-a-Sudden Peggy," Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Tickets are on sale at the drug store and the town has been billed giving the program, etc. Those taking part have been conscientiously rehearsing and doing everything to insure a successful performance. The school orchestra will be heard between the acts. Tickets should sell like hot cakes.

C. S. Allen and wife spent the week end in Portland.

Mrs. H. C. Stephens returned from Portland, Saturday.

Miss Florence Kendall spent Easter with her sister Mrs. A. K. Morton in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Aleck Botkin went to Portland Monday, to see the flying circus and attend to business matters.

Will the old adage be verified this year, that if it rains on Easter Day, it will rain on the next six successive Sundays?

Charles Wanzer of Portland, the father of Mrs. Aleck Botkin of Garfield, arrived Saturday to spend the week end with his daughter.

The Misses Roberta and Elizabeth Reid accompanied by Miss Ethel Monroe arrived from Portland Saturday, to spend Easter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Reid of Garfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Graham returned Monday afternoon from a visit with relatives at Clatskanie and Columbia river points. Mr. Graham will leave the end of the week for Seattle, en route to Alaska where he will be during the summer.
