Miss Florence Kendall was a week-end visitor in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Kimmel have purchased a piano for their daughter Arline.

Mrs. Wm. Dale visited her daughter, Mrs. Stubbs, at Gresham last Sunday.

Miss Maude Sturgeon, Estacada's pharmacist, was a Portland visitor Sunday.

Mrs. Eloise Stenzel, of Portland, was a guest at the home of her friend, Mrs. A. E. Sparks, over the week-end.

Ted Saling went to visit his cousins Neil and Fred Saling in Currinsville Monday.

Roy Meyers of Eagle Creek was in Estacada between trains yesterday morning.

A. G. Ames departed to his post at the head of the Roaring River last Monday afternoon.

Miss Elma Graham, who is now living in Portland, was a week-end visitor at Estacada.

Mrs. Ed. Douglass drove a car to Portland Wednesday afternoon to take Mrs. Pesznecker over to get medical treatment.

Miss Dora Currin was a week-end guest at her home in Currinsville. Miss Currin is a stenographer and has a position in Salem.

D. B. Bass, accompanied by Clyde Denny, is enjoying a vacation on the Clackamas river. During Mr. Bass' absence, his barber shop is being looked after by B. F. Thompson of Portland.

The Cary store at Boring has changed hands, Telford Brothers now being the proprietors. The senior Telford of the new firm, was formerly the proprietor of this store at that place. Mr. and Mrs. Cary have not decided yet where they will locate.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Wooster, Helen Wooster, Irene Saling and Mr. Wooster's brother-in-law, Charles Carothers and wife, who have been visiting at the Wooster home, left for Newport last Saturday morning for a vacation at that well known coast resort.

Paul Holmes arrived home Monday morning after receiving his discharge. He was connected with the eighth infantry division, and had been about eight months in France, arriving there ten days before the armistice was signed. He said that the trip home across the Atlantic was fine.

E. W. Bartlett and family returned Thursday evening from a protracted visit at Colton, California, with their daughter, Mrs. Robert L. Smith of that place. They are looking hale and hearty, showing the good effects of the trip. In an other column Mr. Bartlett gives a very interesting account of the homeward journey, which should be read and thought over by all. Oregon lags behind in the procession, because it fails to be venturesome enough. There is such a thing as an expensive economy. Good roads are the imperative demand of the hour, and those localities which fail to provide them will be left high and dry by the stream of travel.

Mrs. S. Pesznecker was in Portland several days, taking treatment for neuralgia in her face, which has been troubling her very much of late. She returned Sunday.

A. E. Sparks and wife were Portland visitors Monday and were accompanied home in their car by Mrs. M. H. Evans who had been a Sunday guest at the R. M. Standish home.

CHAPTER XIV

"TRAPPED"

General Thurston is abducted by Pitts and kept in a rooming house, secluded. Simultaneously Crosby returns from the United States mint with a receipt for $102,000 worth of gold ingots.

"The Baron" and his associates try to reach the Mountain King workings, through the entrance of the old Miller mine shaft. Murphy is imprisoned by a blast.

Pitts makes a determined effort to murder Helen by drowning her in a basement vault.
