DISTRICT 1 FAULTS ON TAX LEVY

Out of the 11 road districts, exclusive of the incorporated cities in Clackamas county, 10 of them made special tax levies of 10 mills at district meetings Friday. Ten mills is the maximum tax that may be levied by a road district as a special levy.

The lone district refusing to levy a special tax for its roads is District No. 1, formed of the old districts Nos. 1, 38 and 47. This district voted almost solidly against the road bond measure appropriating $1,700,000. for paving county roads last week at a special election, on the ground that none of the funds appropriated were to be expended within the boundaries of that district.

A Live Wire Weekly

We have received a copy of the special 10th Anniversary edition of the Malheur Enterprise which is published at Vale, Oregon. It is in two sections containing fourteen pages 7 columns folio, brimful and overflowing with interesting and pertinent matter.

We are all the more interested in it, because we have known the editors George Huntington Curry and Olive M. Curry his wife for a number of years past, in fact since they were pupils in the grammar school at La Grande. We used to watch them going back and forth from school, as even then coming events cast their shadows before. George was born to the profession, for his father and uncle were editors and proprietors of the La Grande Observer, so he was brought up in a newspaper office. Since taking hold of the Malheur Enterprise he has developed it in a marked degree, and it is now the leading paper in the county and the best weekly in Eastern Oregon. He has a thoroughly modern plant equipped with linotype etc. and is prepared to do all kinds of printing. We congratulate him and his associate editor on their success and predict that soon they will be thinking at out establishing a daily edition.

A Delayed Thanksgiving Party

Last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Harkenrider had the pleasure of a family reunion at their home in this city. The affair was originally planned for Thanksgiving Day, but owing to the fact that their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richards of Echo, Ore., were delayed at Hood River by car troubles, it had to be postponed. However this mishap was not allowed to cast a damper on the festivities and all had a most enjoyable time. Those present from outside in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Richards, were Lena and Josie Harkenrider Messrs. Walter and August Paulsen of Portland, and Julius Paulsen of George who were accompanied by their respective wives who are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harkenrider. Six grand children also were included in the gathering. Mr. and Mrs. Richards will remain about a month but the others returned to their homes.

The Lost Is Found

Readers of the News will recall an advertisement running in its columns September and October, also in the Portland papers asking the whereabouts of John Fields brother of Mrs. George Walters of Currinsville. A short time ago, his father received word from him in Washington. It seems that on leaving here he went to Montana where he worked for sometime, and then left for Washington State. It is a pity he did not think to notify his friends when he left Oregon so as to save them undue anxiety. "However" all's well that ends well.

E. C. C. Club

The meeting of the Community Club last Friday night was turned into a road meeting for voting the special 10 mills tax levy for road purposes. After some discussion the question was put and carried unanimously. No other business being before the club the remainder of the evening was devoted to a social time.

To Carl Brown

From the Eagle Creek Loyalty League, in grateful appreciation of a good son, a true friend, and a loyal citizen, and a good soldier.

When you came home from Arragone with service honors high,
A ready smile, a happy laugh, and gladness in your eye,

We all were proud to claim you, and happy in your joy;

Yet now you lie all still and cold. Farewell, dear soldier boy!

But no. Somewhere the courage, the mind, the heart, the will,

That faced life's tasks so cheerily, must wait to greet us still;

And as we soon shall follow, on the Long Trail all alone,

We each will wish to be as brave, as you at Arragone.

Signed for the Eagle Creek Loyalty League by

C. L. Meyers, Pres.

C. L. Chambers.

Dear Sir: I enclose $1.50 in payment of one year's subscription. I came to Santa Ana as superintendent of the Mission Woolen Mills, shown in the above cut. Like it very much here; this is a fine country and a fine climate.

This Mill was on Government work during the war and I got acquainted with them in that way. It is a business I learned and followed for years back east, but quit it temporarily for the out of doors in Oregon.

Very truly yours,

Ben S. Patton.

NEW EPISCOPALIAN BISHOP CONSECRATED

San Francisco—What prelates of the Protestant Episcopal Church pronounce the most important and at the same time, beautiful ceremony held in the Diocese of California since the year 1901, was that which attended upon the consecration of Right Reverend Edward Lambe Parson, of St. Mark's Church, Berkeley, as Coadjutor Bishop of the Diocese, during the last week.

The Bishops of eight Western dioceses of the Church, as well as more important members of the clergy, participated in the consecration service, which was held at Grace Cathedral, San Francisco. Bishop William Ford Nichols, D. D., of the Diocese of California, was the presiding Bishop.

A Football Star

Estacada can boast that one of its sons has acquired a stellar reputation on the football field. Ken Bartlett played last Wednesday for the U. of O. against the Multnomah club and so brilliantly did he acquit himself that both Portland papers gave him special mention as being the best tackler and the Oregonion picked him for an All Star Pacific Intercollegiate team.
