Mrs. H. Joyner called on Mrs. J. Harders last Thursday.

Peter Ruhl, Mr. and Mrs. C. Johnson and H. Joyner was trans-acting business in Oregon City and Portland Thursday and Fri-day.

Mr. Henry Johnson is visiting relatives in Portland this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mames of Portland is visiting Mrs. Mames' parents Mr. and Mrs. Jannsen for a few weeks.

Beautiful Snow

The country is wrapped in a mantle of snow, typical of the season delightful to the young but not so acceptable to the older ones. However the last do not grudge the boys and girls the fun they will have in sleighing, coasting, and snow balling. They remember the time when these sports appealed to them and take pleasure in watching the fun, which takes them back to the good old days, when frost, snow and ice acted as a stimulat-ing tonic to their blood.

Under the Doctor's Care

Mrs. Ed. McConnel has had her tonsils removed.

J. W. Lovell was operated on for tonsillectomy.

Joe Cahill, who was operated on a week ago, is showing marked improvement.

Mrs. P. M. Wagner had the misfortune last week to have the stovepipe fall on her head and gashing her forehead. The cut was so severe that medical at-tendance was necessary. Dr. McCall arrived on the scene and sewed up the wound with neat-ness and dispatch.

Miss Ida Wagner will soon be able to return home from the Good Samaritan hospital.

Chris Johnson, who has been under treatment for a number of days, has recovered his usual health.

Fred Brown's baby was suffer-ing last week with an abscess of the neck, which necessitated an operation.

Wm. Pollock the foreman of the P. R. L. & P. Co. was in-jured last Thursday at River Mill. He was brought here for medical attention.

A SPLENDID CHRISTMAS PRESENT

To your wife would be a new CHANDLER; no handsomer car on the market, or a CHEVROLET.

If you have a car, get something to add to the comfort of the ride, especially in this cold weather, such as a robe or pair of warm driving gloves. We are getting in a line of elegant Automobile Robes.

We keep on hand all accessories to the car. A spotlight would make a very ac-ceptable gift. Call and look over our stock at

Odd Fellows Do Road Work

The local lodge of the I. O. O. F. undertook Monday, to improve the road leading to the Lone Oak cemetery. As it lies in Garfield territory, that district furnished the gravel and thirteen members of the Lodge assisted by a few others from Currinsville, did the work. Those turning out were J. K. Ely, Dick Githens, A. Kitching, C. Hicinbotham, H. Jones, Jim Linn, Lee McKenzie, George Walters, Ben Bullard, Earl McConnell, F. Harkenrider and A. M. Marshall. Those not members of the lodge who dona-ted their work, were L. Hale, R. S. Coop, A. Erickson, Harry Kitching and Denny of the Springwater district.

The deep snow and the conse-quent shovelling of paths to the woodshed and out to the street, are reminiscent of former winters in Minnesota and Eastern Ore-gon. But provided it does not last too long, it makes a by no means disagreeable diversion.

Ships' Hardships.

His Girl (at the theater)—My, what a strong fellow that acrobat is! Just think, he can hold five men on his stomach for 15 minutes.

The Doughboy—Hull, that's nothin'; I held some chow on mine fer three hours goin' across.

$100 Reward, $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Sur-faces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the con-stitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in the curative power of Hall's Catarrh Medicine that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all Druggists, 7c.

WAS JUST WHAT SHE WANTED

Furniture Attendant Had No Trouble Selling That Particular Sofa to the Young Lady.

The fair young thing drifted into the furniture shop like a motor-bus in wet weather.

An attendant stepped forward with a winning smile.

"I—er—want—a—er—sofa," she muttered, cogly.

"Excuse me, miss," asked the wise young man, "but have you a sweetheart?"

She blushed red and yet more red, and nodded violently.

"And is he bashful?"

"Yes," she replied, stirred at the recollection of her wrongs; "and he sits right at the other end of the sofa from me."

"Ah, indeed! Well, here is the very thing for you."

"That? It's broken, surely! Why, it is shaped like the letter 'V'?"

"That is our specialty. We call it the 'Cupid Slide' sofa. Try one. That young man will no longer be able to sit at the opposite end. He'll meet you half-way."

She bought one on condition it was to be delivered before 8 p. m. that evening.

HER GUESS.

"What is that 'escadrille' I've men-tioned so often in the war dis-patches?"

"One of the new war dances, I presume."

WEDDING HAS BEEN PUT OFF

For What He Considers Good and Suf-ficient Reasons Mr. Meek Has Decided to Wait.

"I must tell you frankly, Mr. Meek, that my consent to your marrying my daughter has been wrung from me under protest," said the lady, assuming a belligerent expression.

"I knew that if I did not consent she would disgrace the family by an elopement. When she wants anything, we all have to give in to her, or take the consequences; and long experience has taught me that I might as well try to fan off a cyclone as reason with her when she loses her temper, especially if there is a flat-iron or a rolling-pin handy, and so I just give in at once. Has the wedding day been fixed yet, Mr. Meek?"

Mr. Meek—Um-er, not yet; and, in fact, madam, I'm—I'm a little afraid I can't afford to marry very soon, any-how. Good-bay.

Unbreakable Thermos.

The convenience of the vacuum bot-tle is recognized, but its fragility has always been one of its shortcomings. This is said to have been entirely over-come by a type which has been recent-ly invented. Instead of fragile glass, the bottle is made with nonbreakable welded steel vacuum walls. The usual glass filler or container is done away with, and its place is taken by a high-ly-glazed flexible enamel fused to the steel shell. There are, therefore, no removable parts but the cork and the part which forms the cover. There are also no unsealed openings at the neck, into which liquids may leak. This type of bottle is surfaced with dull-black rubber composition applied to the steel and baked. The bottle is made in one and two-quart sizes, the latter being successfully portable be-cause of its nonbreakability. Liquids may be kept hot for 20 hours and cold for more than 40, it is claimed.
