Mrs. Wm. Karasch of Portland was the guest of Mrs. E. E. Saling this last week end.

No school for two days on account of the cold and snow to the delight of the children.

Miss Orpha Clester of Aurora, arrived Saturday, to visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ed. Douglass a few days.

Mrs. M. H. Evans is in Portland, having gone there last Wednesday to visit at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. M. Standish.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Posson and daughter went to Portland last Saturday night, to visit at the Fred Jorg home. They returned Sunday evening.

Mattie Lonsberry of Vancouver, Wash., visited his cousin E. W. Linn this past weekend, and Mr. Linn accompanied him home to spend a few days.

Banker Stephens was confined to the house last Tuesday, and he did not feel like going out the following day. But needs must when business drives.

Mrs. R. G. McCall went to Portland last week to attend a meeting of the Daughters of the Nile. This is an order composed exclusively of the wives of Mystic Shriners.

Mrs. A. E. Sparks went to the metropolis Monday, returning on Tuesday evening.

Those who represented the Estacada schools at the teachers' meeting at Oregon City last Saturday, were Supt. Burns and Miss Leila Howe.

J. C. Valentine injured his right hand severely Tuesday, while cranking a machine at the Cascade garage. One finger was broken and another one mashed quite badly.

Mrs. J. C. Valentine has returned from a visit to her mother at Myrtle Creek, and is again in charge of the library. Her rheumatism is better, but she still has to use a crutch while walking.

S. P. Pesznecker is rapidly equipping his shop with the latest machinery. He has just installed a metal turning lathe from the Canedy Otto Mfg. Co. of Chicago. With this he can turn out a shaft eight feet long and fifteen inches in diameter. Repair work of all kinds can be done here and very little if any, needs to be sent away.

Bob Marchbank's $1,000 corn popper is attracting much attention when it is in operation. It is a very elegant affair, and there is a fascination in watching the streams of snow white kernels playing like a fountain. It is a far cry from the old fashioned iron kettle of former days, to this latest model which works automatically and the corn is not touched by the hands except those of the purchaser.
