WHITE PLAGUE CLAIMS VICTIM

Virgil Wagner the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wagner, was born at The Dalles, Oregon, on November 20, 1891. When five years old his parents moved to Garfield and resided there until coming to Estacada. He attended the public schools in Garfield and Estacada, where he gained the reputation of possessing wonderful vitality, which later sustained him when his health broke down. Shortly before the entrance of the U. S. into the war, he attempted to enlist in the navy but was rejected on account of a defective heart. He then went east to study locomotive and railway engineering. When the U. S. became a participant in the war, he immediately tried to enlist in the army, but was rejected. Later at his request, he was ordered to present himself for reexamination, which resulted in his assignment to the supply train at Camp Custer, Battle Creek, Mich. At this station he contracted the mumps and pneumonia which was followed by tuberculosis in the left lung, and was given a disability discharge in January 1918.

He spent last summer at the coast and for a time he seemed to be regaining his health. In October he and his brother Otis entered a sanitarium at San Diego for treatment. The following month he underwent a minor surgical operation which was followed by pneumonia, and his parents were called to his bedside. After their arrival he began rapidly to recover and three weeks later they returned home leaving him apparently convalescent. However the improvement did not continue so he was transferred to a government sanitarium at Alpine. At this higher altitude he gained at first, but on March 5th, a hemorrhage set in and he passed away at 3 p. m.

The remains are being sent home and services will be held in the local Christian Church, with interment in Lone Oak cem-

DIED

At her home in Upper Garfield, March 4, 1920, Mrs. Paul Sauer, Aged 34 years.

The deceased gave birth to a baby just before her death, who survived three hours. She leaves besides her husband, three children, two boys eight and five years old and a girl of twelve. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at Mt. Zion church with interment in the cemetery back of the church, the Rev. J. F. Dunlop officiating. The bereaved family receive the profound sympathy of the entire community.

Mrs. J. F. Snyder sends the following tribute: Mrs. Sauer was a kind neighbor and faithful friend, devoted wife and mother. She possessed a remarkably quiet, mild and kind disposition, with wonderful gentleness, patience and sweetness in her home. She only saw the good in people, never their shortcomings. She had great love for the beautiful things of nature, every nook and corner of her home having choice flowers and ferns growing. She had deep religious convictions, with a steadfast abiding trust and faith in God. She was loved by everyone who knew her for her many virtues, and she leaves behind her a record of love and goodwill for all mankind.

All Odd Fellows attend Saturday night meeting. Important business to be transacted.

J. K. Ely, Sec.

etery. His parents, four brothers and four sisters survive him.

He was formerly a member of the Garfield Grange and a charter member of the local post of the American Legion of San Diego, California. The Home Chapter of the American Red Cross at Portland and San Diego were interested in his case and that of his brother Otis, and rendered to both and their parents most appreciated assistance, for which the family are profoundly grateful.

Later: The funeral will be at 2 p. m. tomorrow, Friday, at the Christian Church.

Arrested for Smoking Cigarettes

A High School boy was arrested Wednesday by Hank Boyer, our new marshal, for smoking cigarettes. He was taken before City Recorder Wooster, who took the case under advisement. We have remarked several violations of the law against smoking cigarettes by minors. Perhaps now the authorities are beginning to notice, it will act as a deterrent. That boys and girls should be made to respect law and constituted authority, is more important than the imposing of a fine for its violation. And it is the lack of this respect which is furthering the spread of Bolshevism, the I. W. W. and the pressing demand for a new and enlarged penitentiary.

Later: The boy was fined five dollars.

Mrs. C. A. Miller Entertained

The members of the Ladies Aid of the M. E. church and other friends, held a farewell party for Mrs. C. A. Miller at the parsonage Tuesday afternoon. The time was pleasantly passed in visiting, doing fancy work and music. Mrs. Miller has been very active in church work during her stay here, and she will be greatly missed, both at church and at the Ladies Aid meetings.

Boys' Club Proposed

The Parent Teachers meeting was held Tuesday evening at the High School and was addressed by Mr. Frank Wells of Portland, who is a representative of the Rocky Mountain Teacher's agency. The subject discussed was the behavior of the High School Pupils out of school hours. J. K. Ely and Mayor Bartlett also spoke, the latter advocating the organization of a boys' club.

Lath Mill for Estacada

Some Portland parties have leased from J. W. Reed, the building at the lumber yard at the corner of third and Zobrist streets and will install a lath mill in it. We have not been able to get full particulars but hope to give them next week.

BACK AT THE OLD LOCATION

When our esteemed predecessor, R. M. Standish, was in the real estate business, he had an office at the corner of Broadway and 2nd St., across from the pharmacy. When he gave up the business, he moved this building on to one of the lots owned by Mrs. M. H. Evans on Upper Broadway, adjoining her residence. Later she bought the building and now has sold it to W. F. Cary who has moved it its former site, and will use it again as a real estate office. Its experience is reminiscent of the action of the king of France, who marched his army up the hill and then marched it down again.

Lecture Tonight

R. Foster Stone who lectured so acceptably last night at the High School auditorium, on "A Message for These Times," will lecture again this evening. His subject will be "The World Around Us; Its Lights and Shadows; Its Mirth and Pathos." He will be assisted by Miss Hildur Levida Lingren, soloist. No admission will be charged but a silver offering taken up. Parents are especially urged to attend. Mr. Stone proved himself last night an able and forcible speaker, and his lecture tonight is in some particulars the strongest in his repertory. The musical features by Miss Lindgren and Miss Thatcher are of an exceptional order and a delight to music lovers.

Baby Adopted

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snyder, having been married some years and no child of their own determined to adopt one. Last Saturday Mrs. Snyder went to Portland and returned with a fine nine day old boy, who will be known as Harry Jr. Congratulations are in order both to the foster parents and the baby.
