

SALVATION ARMY TO SERVE ALL OREGON

Business Men of Every County
Join With Corps Officers to Extend Helping Hand.

A service born of service by men and women whose lives are dedicated to that service, a service not for gain, for it pays its workers poorly, is to be placed at the disposal of even the smallest community in Oregon through the expansion of the Salvation Army Home Service Program for 1920.

Since its splendid service among the American troops abroad brought to the attention of the home folks the kind of work the army has been doing quietly in the slums of the larger cities, demands from all quarters have flooded in upon the army until it has been forced to double and treble its efforts.

It has been compelled to expand beyond city lines and extend its service to the remotest districts of the state. And in these out of the way places the army is solving one of the greatest economic problems, handling at their source and preventing many of the ills that result from poverty and wrong teaching.

In every county of Oregon one and sometimes two advisory boards have been formed of business men and citizens of those counties. These men are constantly in touch with their communities and judge when and how best the Salvation Army can be utilized to serve the citizens of that community. A word to headquarters brings the Salvation Army worker to take care of the man or woman, boy or girl whose mistakes have overwhelmed them.

In the rescue and maternity home in Portland the unfortunate girl mothers of Oregon find a refuge and sanctuary.

In the boys and girls home to be established at Yamhill the life of the neglected child is shaped and the boy or girl prepared to go out into the world and win his or her own way.

In the industrial home in Portland many derelicts are made over into self supporting men and women who are no longer a charge upon their county but an asset to their community.

In the relief branches of the work done by the army many cases of poverty and sickness are handled annually. When the call for help comes there is no investigation of the worthiness of the subject. Help is given and investigation made afterwards.

Free employment bureaus which exact no membership fee, find work for hundreds of idle hands and while work is being found see to it that deserving men seeking honest employment do not starve.

Mysterious Light.

Even more mysterious than the gegenschein, the faint moonlight glow in the sky exactly opposite the sun, is a still less familiar luminous feature of the night. This is a shifting haze sometimes visible when the moon is absent. Prof. E. E. Barnard of the University of Chicago finds that it differs from ordinary auroral phenomena in appearance in all parts of the sky, and that it is not probably any form of cirrus or cirro-stratus cloud. It seems to be more or less self-luminous, the source of its light being unknown. It may be quite noticeable as a streaky, luminous haze, sometimes appears in broad sheets, and seems sometimes to be absent for several years, though at other times there is a great deal of it. It drifts easterly over the stars, remaining visible with a faint, steady light for a considerable time.

SALVATION ARMY TO MAKE BOYS FARMERS

Neglected Youngsters to Be Given Thorough Training in Mechanics of Farming.

With thorough appreciation of the value to the state of trained agriculturists, versed in modern methods and with a knowledge of applied mechanics necessary to modern farming, the Salvation Army in its Home Service Program for Oregon, plans to make useful farm hands, if not farm experts, of many neglected and dependent youngsters. Throughout the state there are always lads whose ages range from seven and eight to fifteen years, who will have no future apart from poverty and comparative ignorance and probable criminality. Opportunities such as those to be offered by the Industrial and Agricultural school the Salvation Army plans to establish at North Yamhill, on the 100 acre farm on which now stand the buildings of the Bishop Scott school, will open before these lads a useful life.

Brought up to manhood in clean surroundings, with daily instruction in ordinary schooling and practical instruction and practice in farming, the youngsters will not only be saved from bad citizenship but given an honorable profession or trade with which to earn their own way as men.

At the Yamhill school, to be patterned after the famous Lytton school conducted by the Salvation Army in California, both boys and girls will find all the essentials of preparation for life's battle. The girls will be taught sewing, household duties, cooking etc. The boys will be trained in several trades and in farming, horticultural and animal husbandry pursuits and modern farm mechanics.

And while their bodies and minds are being trained their responsibilities as citizens and members of society will not be neglected in fact, one of the strongest teachings of the Salvation Army is Americanism. The school is non-sectarian.

Through the efforts of the Salvation Army in Portland, several boys have been taken from up state Oregon towns and placed at the California farm school temporarily until the funds made available by the financial campaign, May 1 to May 10, provide for the opening of the Yamhill school. County advisory boards in every county in Oregon are helping the Salvation Army in this great work with children.

Bagpipe Music at Wedding.

There was bagpipe playing at the wedding of Roswell Miller and Miss Margaret Carnegie in New York the other day. The Highland airs might have seemed out of place at the marriage of most American girls, but in the Carnegie home nothing could have been more appropriate.

The bride's father is a true son of the Highlands, his birthplace and home of his childhood. After having made his fortune in the American steel industry he returned to Scotland and bought the beautiful estate of Skibo castle. There the Carnegie family spent their summers from the earliest recollection of Andrew Carnegie's only child, the bride of a few days ago. Guests at the wedding were impressed by the wedding march played on the great organ in the Carnegie mansion of Fifth avenue, and there was a fine orchestra which also played, but to the old Scotsman and perhaps to the bride, neither approached the music of the pipers from Skibo castle, an exchange remarks.

Rice Terraces Are World's Masterpieces

This is a photograph of the Ifugao igorrot rice terraces, which are among the most remarkable of their kind in the world. They are one of the many marvelous sights for the tourist to see in the Philippine Islands and are to be found in the Ifugao district of the Mountain province, Northern Luzon.

The height of these terraces, which are held up by stone walls, is from 4 to 18 feet, averaging 8 feet high. It is estimated there are 12,121 miles of eight-foot stone walls in the Ifugao terraces, which is approximately half the distance around the world.

These terraces are skillfully irrigated by water brought in troughs along the precipitous mountain sides over long distances.
