THE first essential of paint is to preserve. Second, to beautify. Too many people make the mistake of considering only the latter, consequently buy paints of inferior quality.

The result is a temporary beautifying effect, without preserving the wood.

FULLER Paints and other products are of that quality which preserves and beautifies. Through their use, inside and out, years of life will be added to your home and it will be made more livable to yourself and family.

Seventy-one years of paint-making experience are back of every brushful of FULLER Products. Insist on FULLER'S and you'll be sure of results. And remember, there's a FULLER Product for every paintable surface—inside and out.

LaFollett For Road Bonds

Miracle of miracles, the impossible has happened.

In the legislature, Senator A. M. LaFollett of Marion County, fought against every road bond measure. His opposition to good roads was intense, bitter and habitual. It was supposed nothing could change it.

Yesterday he dropped in to see his neighbor, C. C. Chapman of Hopewell, just across the Willamette River from the celebrated LaFollett peach orchard in Mission Bottom, where the senator grew the first loganberries that ever were grown in Oregon on a commercial scale. The two cronies passed the time of day and looked at some of Chapman's hogs and calves.

"Chapman, I'm for the bonds," finally blurted out the old senator who had led the fight against every state and county bond issue that had been up for years. "What bonds?" demanded Chapman, amazed.

"The state road bonds, the amendment I voted against, raising the limit from 2% to 4%," he responded. "I'm for the measure. I looked over the figures that those expert accountants figured up, and I'm satisfied the bonds won't raise my taxes, so I'm for 'em, as I want all the good roads

I can get. If they are going to be built in time for me to use them, they had better hurry up and build them, for I am getting old. I really don't deserve any roads, the way I've fought 'em, but I guess I'll get them all right," he continued with a wink. "I'm getting all my neighbors to vote for the measure."

"Yes, I voted against the measure, but I'm for it now," he concluded. "Let's get the roads built just as soon as we can. We are paying our license fees and gas tax, and we may as well get the roads."

The bonding measure comes up before the people at the May 21 Election.
