LAST RITES OF THE SCHOOL YEAR

The concluding ceremonies for the graduation of the class of 1920 began with a community picnic in the park on Thursday noon. This was generally attended, people bringing their own lunch, while free coffee and ice cream were furnished by the grade school and High School Parent-Teachers association.

Thomas F. Ryan of Oregon City, now republican candidate for state senator, was present and addressed the gathering. The Commencement exercises took place in the auditorium at 8 p. m. The stage was very prettily decorated with broom, of which the yellow flowers and green foliage represented the class colors of green and gold. After the preliminary numbers by the boys' quartet, invocation by Rev. J. F. Dunlop and violin solo by Theodore Ahlberg, the speaker was introduced. This was Dr. John Landsbury of the U. of Oregon, who spoke in a happy vein on the subject "Two Kinds of Folk." The contrasts which he drew between the "and man" or the man who is content simply to drift and the "because man" or the man with a purpose in life, were very entertaining as well as highly inspiring to the class of young people who were leaving their school problems for the higher problems of life.

A musical number followed which was well rendered by the girls' chorus, and a duet by Miss Helen Wooster and Mr. Henry D. Cossman. J. K. Ely, chairman of the Board, presented the diplomas to the class.

Runaway

Friday afternoon a little excitement was caused by a runaway horse belonging to Henry D. Cossman. The horse was standing near Krigbaum's confectionery, when something scared it, and caused it to run. The reins became entangled in an ice cream sign which was dragged along and smashed up. The horse ran into an auto belonging to Walter Snuffin, which was standing in front of the Family theater, and then ran on the sidewalk until caught. The radiator of the car was damaged which put the machine out of commission temporarily. The horse was cut on its hind legs, but not seriously, and it was fortunate that the damage was not greater.

Baseball

The High School nine played James John High of Portland, last Saturday and beat the visitors with a score of 12 to 2 in favor of Estacada. On Sunday the town team tackled Columbia Park, scoring 5 to the latter's 3.

A game of baseball is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at 2:30 between Estacada and the Peninsula Greys.

RESULTS OF THE PRIMARY ELECTIONS

Johnson has evidently beaten Wood, but the majority of the delegates at large to the republican convention were not Johnson men. Stanfield beat his opponent Abraham for republican nomination for senator, but as Chamberlain won the round in the democratic ring over Starkweather, Stanfield will have to make the fight of his life, if he wishes to win in November. President Wilson's action in the matter, which was looked upon as impertinent interference in a state campaign, immeasurably strengthened Chamberlain both within and without his own political party.

Kozer won the republican nomination for secretary of state, and Buchtel that for the Public Service Commission.

In the county contest, Ryan beat Schuebel for the republican nomination for state senator, and Stone, Hammond and Shank won the places for representative, and Proctor was renominated for county commissioner. The race for sheriff was most keen, Johnson and Wilson running neck and neck for a while, but Wilson finally won out.

W. R. McDonald is placed for joint representative of Clackamas and Multnomah counties.

Harvey Cross secured the nomination for county judge, Meldrum for county surveyor and Pace for coroner. While it is a disappointment that both our home candidates were defeated, it is a satisfaction that they polled a substantial vote from this end of the county.

All the referendum measures carried, and thus the welfare of schools and state colleges are assured as far as financial support is concerned, and the road programs will not be halted for want of funds.

Community Club Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Community Club will be held at the Hotel Estacada, Friday evening. Prof. Brewster of the O. A. C., and a gentleman from Portland, will be the special speakers.
