The Fitting Disposition.

"I was surprised at Hawker's speech, as I had believed that all aviators must be of an amiable disposition."

"Why must they?"

"Because if they are quarrelsome, they are apt to fall out."

In Iceland Every Mary Has A Lamb

An Iceland Mary and Her Lamb; Also "Little Brother."

Did you ever hear "Mary Had a Little Lamb" in the Iceland tongue? Probably not! So, if it be of interest to you, try this:

Hun Maria atti litid lamb
A lagdin hvitt sem anjor
Hvert Maria skoppadi ut eda inn
A eftir lambid for.

Also you may tell the children that Iceland holds the world's record for Marys and pet lambs. Mary is a favorite name there, and about every child has a long haired, affable lamb. These pets are more intelligent than our "Wall Street Lambs."

This particular Mary is a sub-deb of an old Iceland family, now residing in the United States. Some thousands of Icelanders have, in recent years, come to America, settling in North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Washington. They are generally farmers.

The Interchurch World Movement is making a survey of these people in its program to assist the alien to become a citizen in deed as well as word.

Why the Electric Cleaner?

There is really no comparison between the ease and thoroughness with which an Electric Cleaner removes dirt and the difficulty of sweeping.

True, one CAN clean rugs and carpets wthout an electric cleaner. A broom or carpet sweeper will brush up SOME of the dirt; and if you like the exercise and have plenty of time and strength a broom and a carpet beater will do the work after a fashion.

In the same way one can wash without soap. Water alone will remove some dirt if applied with enough "elbow grease."

But people use soap because it cleans more easily and better than water alone.

For the same reason people use Electric Cleaners because they clean more easily and far better than other methods.

Hard Life in a War Camp.

Joe Heintzman came in from Cincinnati with gossip of a western war camp. He said the work was to be hurried and the contractors put on all the men they could find, under the 10 per cent on cost rule.

"One carpenter," said he, "was a sort of a lazy bird. He checked in each morning, and then he used to wander around in the shade and do very little work. The third day he noticed a man following him. Wherever the carpenter went, there was the other man also. By and by he could not stand it any longer.

"'What the dickens you mean by it?' he asked, 'a-following me around this a-way? I ain't a going to be spied on. Do you get me? I'll quit first.'

"'Why,' said the other man, 'I'm awful sorry, Mr. Jones. I don't want to annoy you by following you around. But, you see, I'm your assistant.'"—New York Times.

Busy Uncle Sam.

"I'm sorry," said the diffident woman, but I've got to ring up central and get information at the depot about when my train leaves and then send a telegram to my aunt, besides buying transportation and a lot of other things."

"But you have a perfect right to do so."

"I know it. But I do hate to be such a bother to the government!"

Lavish Ostentation.

"Has Crimson Gulch gotten used to prohibition?"

"Yes," said Cactus Joe. "The boys didn't know what to do with their money for awhile. But Bill the barkeep has opened an ice cream soda fountain with a price list that makes a man feel more liberal than ever when he buys a drink."
