Red Cross Work

"Lord, when saw we Thee an hungered, and fed Thee? or thirsty and gave Thee drink?"

"When saw we Thee a stranger, and took Thee in? or naked and clothed Thee?"

"Or when saw we Thee sick, or in prison, and came unto Thee? And the King shall answer and say unto them. Verily I say unto you, Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

The new administration will have its work cut out for it, which will require the acumen of the best brains in the country to manage successfully. At home economic tangles predominate in the foreign field questions arising out of the late war press for a satisfactory solution, besides the Japanese problem. Then in addition to these, there will be the growing, insistent demand of the Filipinos for independence. The new president will do well to select the most statesmanlike minds available to help him in the administration of affairs, as no single individual is sufficient for the purpose.

The British government has notified the state department of a communication from certain Irish societies on this side, threatening to kill three Englishmen in the U. S., provided they are not naturalized, for every Irishman killed in reprisals in Ireland after last Sunday the 14th. If anything of the kind should happen, they will find they have started something they will regret. It would not help Ireland and would be an act of treason against this country.

"What's in a name?" That of an ex-president it is now stated, is worth $50,000 a year to any business firm. And this in a country where it is supposed "a man's a man for a' that."

President-elect Harding will need all his mechanical skill in making his cabinet.

The president in his Thanksgiving proclamation states as one reason for thankfulness, that the lesions caused by war are rapidly healing. We hope this applies to the late election as well.

Senator Chamberlain received a very flattering mention from that staunch republican paper, the New York Herald, regretting his approaching departure from the senate. In the same paper appeared a letter proposing Chamberlain for Secretary of War in the new cabinet.

By an irony of fate, election week was "better English week." However if any democrat smarting under disappointment, spoke unadvisedly or ungrammatically with his lips, he was excusable. Charity demands that if thereby he found consolation he should not be denied the relief.

"It Will be a Hummer!"

This is what the varsity "O," the greater O.A.C. and the vigilance committees say about Homecoming week, November 19 to 21. The Aggie-U. of O. football game is expected to draw a capacity crowd. Tickets are going like hot cakes.

The bonfire, built by the freshmen, will feature the entrance of the old King Jazz, according to the committee. This bonfire is an event in every "rook's" life. The bonfire last year was 25 feet square and lighted up the heavens so it could be seen on the University of Oregon campus. The classes will guard the fire Thursday night. It is the custom that the seniors take the first shift, the juniors next, the sophomores the "graveyard" shift from 12 to 4, and the rooks finish the night.

The rally Friday night will be started by the monster fire and stunts and talks will be featured. The annual rook-soph bag rush is scheduled for 10 o'clock Saturday morning. The rush will be inspired by the seniors, as is always the custom.

The big O.A.C.-Oregon game will occupy the afternoon. The varsity "O" men, alumni and active will banquet at 6 o'clock Saturday.

The crowning event of the week-end will be the varsity "O" dance Saturday evening. Both the men's and women's gymnasiums will be used. Open house will be observed at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Buft Moore went to Portland Tuesday, returning Wednesday.

The Land Where Hate Should Die

"This is the land where hate should die; No feuds of faith, no spleen of race. No darkly-brooding fear should try Beneath our flag to find a place. Lo, every people here has sent Its sons to answer Freedom's call. Their life-blood is the strong cement That builds and binds the nation's wall.

"This is the land where hate should die; Though dear to me my faith and shrine.

I serve my country well when I Respect beliefs that are not mine. He little loves his land who'd cast Upon his neighbor's faith a doubt, Or cite the wrongs of ages past From present rights to bar him out.

"This is the land where hate should die; This is the land where strife should cease!

Where foul suspicious fear should fly Before our flag of light and peace! So, let us purge of poisoned thought That service to the hate we give, And so be worthy, as we ought, Of the great land in which we live."

—Denis A. McCarthy, Former editor, Sacred Heart Review.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wagner were in Portland the fore part of this week.

Oregon Tuberculosis Association

Twenty-eight of Oregon's 36 counties have already pledged themselves to aid in the sale of Christmas seals, the organized community effort to finance the Oregon Tuberculosis Association in its fight against the most dreadful disease scourge of the ages. In the several counties where there are public health associations, the seal sale will be directed by them; in others, the entire county has been taken over by some enterprising individual or by an influential women's organization, and in others, the various cities are being organized separately. Much friendly rivalry for big sales between cities and counties is anticipated.

G. H. Lichthorn has secured a judgment against Henry Cromer in the sum of $169.50 due on an unpaid grocery bill.
