VOLUME 14, NUMBER 19

ESTACADA, OREGON, THURSDAY, JANUARY 27, 1921

$1.50 PER YEAR

NEWS WILL MOVE TO QUARTERS NEW

After having occupied, for some years its quarters on Broadway street, the EASTERN CLACKAMAS NEWS will begin moving tomorrow, to the building which has been fitted up for it, at the corner of 2nd and Zobrist streets, opposite the Estacada Feed Co.'s store. There it will have larger office room, better lighted and more convenient for the arrangement of its furniture and equipment, with the presses standing on a concrete base. Another improvement is the installation of electric power to run the presses, each of which will have its individual motor. We are still hoping that before the year runs out, we shall be able to put in a six column folio press which will give a more convenient shaped paper, affording larger news space than at present. We bespeak the indulgence of our readers until we get settled, as for the next week or two the paper may be belated, and the matter hastily made up.

Congratulations

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bartlett went to Portland Monday, to observe the twenty-seventh anniversary of their marriage. No doubt the time on looking back seems short and the events of 27 years ago but as yesterday. With two grown children well settled in life, and two grandchildren, they may consider their marriage has had auspicious results. Here's hoping that surrounded by grandchildren and great grandchildren they may celebrate their golden wedding.

A Growing Institution

The Lovelace hospital is demonstrating its need and proving its utility. The local physicians find it convenient as well as residents who require special care in sickness. Mrs. Lovelace gives each patient her personal care.

Look up the Ads of our merchants and see how prices have declined.

Coming Events

Cast Shadows Before

"All the world loves a lover," and we have received a communication from an unknown correspondent in respect to a young man in the vicinity of Dodge, who seems to have been hard hit by Cupid's dart. We recall our youthful escapades and forbear from revealing that which was meant to be kept private. We tender our best wishes to him and suggest that if he finds it difficult to express the thoughts which surge up in him, he will find Ella Wheeler Wilcox's "Poems of Passion" a valuable aid.

"Bringing Up of Father"

Who has not been amused by the cartoons which have been running for some years in the Oregon Journal and other papers entitled "Bringing Up of Father"? Poor old Jiggs continually putting his foot in it, and being battered up by his vixen of a wife, and yet always coming up smiling, has won universal sympathy, while his worse half has made herself a laughing stock for her absurd pretensions. Manager Linn informs us that he has obtained three runs depicting this series, which will be commenced on Thursday, February 3, and one will be run each month until concluded.

Little Hikers

Velma and Laura Keisecher, aged 10 and 9 years respectively, the little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Keisecher of Firwood, walked on New Year's day to Eagle Creek, a distance of ten miles, in order to visit their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ballou. This would have been a respectable hike for grown ups.

The failure of the Morris bond firm, of Portland, may not result so disastrously to the creditors as at first reported. Each day the value of the assets increases, and were it not for the excessive costs of the receivership and wind up, 100 cents on the dollar might be paid.

Mrs. A. O. Whitcomb Dead

Stricken with heart trouble while preparing breakfast at her home on Council Crest last Friday morning, Mrs. Arthur O. Whitcomb was taken to a local hospital, where she died Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Whitcomb was the mother of Walter D. Whitcomb of the Portland accountancy firm of Whitfield & Whitcomb, and of Mrs. Walter H. Nugent, wife of the pastor of the Central Presbyterian church.

Funeral services were held Monday at 1 o'clock in the funeral conservatory chapel of the East Side Funeral directors, 414 East Alder street, Portland.

Mrs. Whitcomb came to Oregon with her husband about 12 years ago from Chicago. She lived on a fruit ranch near Estacada for many years and during the war moved to Palo Alto, Cal., her husband being stationed at Camp Fremont, where he was chief clerk. She was 61 years old and a member of the First Congregational church, in the affairs of which she had been active.

Community Club Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Community club will be held in the high school auditorium on Friday evening. As the original plan of combining it with the high school debate has been abandoned, a program will be given instead by the pupils and talks given on school and community co-operation. The evening promises to be both entertaining and instructive. Let there be as good an attendance as that of last month.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Wagner went to Portland, Monday, returning the following day. They brought with them, Mr. Wagner's sister, Mrs. German and her young son, of Portland.

Today, we understand, is the birthday of Mrs. W. W. Boner, and the event is to be duly honored. We wish her many returns of the day.

Mrs. Irving Smith was a Portland visitor Tuesday.

HIGH SCHOOLS' DEBATING CONTEST

It was announced last week that there would be a debate in the High School auditorium on Friday night, between a team from Estacada High School and another of the county high schools. Owing to a change in plans, the debate won't come off until Friday of next week, Feb. 4. On this date there will be a triangular contest between Estacada, Oregon City and West Linn. The subject is, "Resolved, that the Primary Election Law in Oregon should be repealed."

The schedule is as follows: Estacada negative goes to West Linn; West Linn negative goes to Oregon City; Oregon City negative goes to Estacada.

The Estacada teams are, Affirmative, Helen Wooster and Gilbert Shearer; Negative, Frederick Burns and Pearl Fautz.

M. E. Conference

The first quarterly conference of the year was held Tuesday night in the M. E. church, with Dr. Youngson of Portland, presiding. At the last state conference Estacada was placed in the Portland district, and this was Dr. Youngson's first official visitation. The Ladies' Aid served a delicious cafeteria chicken supper which was largely attended and netted $55.83. Afterwards adjournment was taken to the church auditorium where Dr. Youngson made a brief address and then took up the business of the evening. The church property at Currinsville which is no longer used, is to be sold and L. Hale, whose farm adjoins, is the prospective purchaser.

Fourth Lyceum Number

On page 6 will be found an interesting story of Stanley Nelson Dancey who will lecture here on Wednesday night in the school auditorium. He comes highly recommended as one who is exceptionally well worth hearing.
