

GARFIELD BREVITIES

H. A. La Barre is a Portland visitor this week.

Mrs. S. A. Roberts, of Boring, was a guest of her sister Mrs. Richard Davis last week.

The Dennis property was purchased recently by Mr. Shaffer and wife from Washington.

Mrs. Paul Hissock has been enjoying a visit in Portland this past week, returning Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Mattoon, Mrs. T. Eash, E. Krigbaum and C. F. Corbin motored to Portland this week.

Rev. Dunlop held services in Nora Memorial church Sunday. Two were baptized and received into the M. E. church.

F. C. Pauli has his new residence completed. The Paulis are from Kansas. They say the winter is very mild compared with the home state winters.

O. W. Failing has returned from Portland after a stay of two weeks. He reports that he actually came down the Country Club hill without getting stuck.

Mr. Ayers has returned to Garfield from Boyd, Oregon, and the Dillingers have moved to their homestead, giving Mr. Ayers possession of his ranch.

George Cook, president of the Hill Telephone Co., called a special meeting last week. An assessment of $10 was levied on each stock holder for general repair and up keep of the line.

A. C. Anderson, C. V. Sandstone, H. Anders, Hector Anders and J. A. Botkin have been resetting poles and doing line work the past week. The Hill line was completely out and every fellow must do his share in keeping up the line if he gets service.

DOVER

Mrs. Seward has been quite ill but is improving at the present.

Mr. Shaw left Monday morning for Portland to spend a few days.

Mr. Blackerby is spending the winter on the R. E. Thompson ranch.

Little Hugh Guthrie has been sick and not able to attend school.

Mr. and Mrs. Akin and family were calling on Jos DeShazer Wednesday.

Several from Dover attended the Dairyman's League meeting held in Sandy recently.

Ralph DeShazer and Claud Young are loading a car at Cedar Brook with hewn ties this week.

NEW YORK SUN PRAISES
YOUNG CANADIAN ORATOR ON RETURN FROM EUROPE

Stanley Nelson Dancey, Who Was Complimented by Joffre for His Brilliant Eloquence, to Lecture Here.

Stanley Nelson Dancey, the brilliant young Canadian lecturer, unconsciously stepped into the limelight while a soldier in the late great war. Immediately following the armistice he gained almost international fame as a speaker, winning praise from high allied officers and also personal commendation from Field Marshal Joffre. The New York Sun said of him: "He is a powerful speaker and carries his audience with him at every turn. His enthusiasm is great and he possesses a wonderful fluency of language."

Mr. Dancey enjoyed a wide experience in travel. He has visited most of the South American countries as well as practically all of the European governments. Prior to the war he was a well-known journalist in western Canada. Dancey's lecture is a treat. He has been a veritable sensation during the past summer on a large eastern Chautauqua circuit. He will speak on "The Invisible Frontier."

High School Auditorium, Wednesday, February 2nd. Admission 50 and 25 cents.

Fruit Growers' Handbook Popular

Demand for the Fruit Growers' Handbook has been so strong that it will soon have to be reprinted, reports A. L. Lovett, entomologist of the O. A. C. Experiment station. The book was originally planned as a guide for Oregon growers, but outside specialists have found that it is a handy and reliable reference text. So useful has the volume proved to Oregon orchardists that the department intends to put out like hand books on stone fruit, insects, small fruit insects, if at a later date the present volume is found to fill the bill.
