ED. BONER'S

Persons who aren't growing any asparagus on their farms for home use, should figure on putting in a small area this spring. Provision for stock should be made now as there is always a strong demand about planting time. The asparagus can be kept in the ground until planting time in April. Ample supply for an average family may be obtained from 150 to 200 plants.

Mrs. A. G. Ames went Saturday to Portland to meet her husband and accompany him home.

Milk, eggs and well cooked vegetables will produce better growth of children than meat, which should be used sparingly or not at all until the child is six or seven years old. For very young children the vegetables may be cooked, put through a sieve, and given with milk on toast.—Home economics, O. A. C.

Charles Kandie was on the sick list yesterday and unable to come down to the store.
