JUNIOR CLASS PLAY DRAWS FULL HOUSE

The auditorium of the high school was taxed to its limit Tuesday night to accommodate the audience at the Junior class play, "The Professor's Mother-in-law." "Samivel my boy, beware of the vidders," was the advice of Mr. Weller Sr. to his redoubtable son in Pickwick. After seeing the play Tuesday night, we would add to the above advice, "especially if they are your mothers-in-law." Irene Saling in the title role had a part which showed that the female of the species is more deadly than the male. Anyhow, she proved to be too much for her son-in-law the professor, the upshot being a trip to Reno with her daughter, whereby she became an ex-mother-in-law to him greatly to that gentleman's relief. Miss Gladys Stamp, who was the professor's bride at the opening, carried her part with ease and made a very pleasing appearance on the stage. The same is true of all the young ladies in the cast. Mary Ely who was bride No. 2 of the professor, looking very modest and attractive, especially as the proud and happy young mother in the final act. Elsie Deardorf as the reporter for the EASTERN CLACKAMAS NEWS, looked truly professional, and we would like to have her continue in that character.

Boys as a rule are at a disadvantage with girls on the stage. The reason is, to the modern girl "all the world is a stage" and she is accustomed to it from babyhood. Naturally she is at ease, but with a boy it is different, he is like a cat in a strange garret and self conscious. The boys, Ike and Marion Tucker, Walter Matson and Jose Gordon, acquitted themselves, however, very creditably and did not falter in their lines. Jose Gordon as the darky, had a part to which he took as naturally as a duck to water. Walter Matsou also, as Billy Blake, had this advantage.

As next year the present juniors will be seniors, we shall look forward to seeing them next year in the senior class play.

The financial receipts amounted to $100.

For the Library

Mrs. A. E. Sparks, with commendable public spirit, is getting up an entertainment for the benefit of the library. To this end she has enlisted the aid of a number of our citizens. Manager Linn will give the use of the Family theatre, Roy Burtchett will organize an orchestra of volunteers to furnish music of a high order for the occasion. The Universal film "Dinty" which had a phenomenal run in Portland a short time ago, has been secured. This is an expensive one and will cost $30 for the one evening. The leading character is a boy who appeals to the heart of all and is well supported by a notable cast. More particulars will be given next week. The prices of admission will be 35 and 20 cents, with some reserved seats at 50 cents. Such a good show for such a good purpose should not fail of a good patronage.

Will Leave for Gladstone

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Melton and little Alice will leave Saturday for Gladstone where Mr. Melton will keep a garage. They will be much missed by a host of friends, who, however, wish them abundant success in their new venture. Their home will be occupied by W. C. Bacon of the Reed & Shibley garage, who will move his family into it when vacated.

Sweet Memories

The People's store has some genuine Vermont maple sugar on sale. For those raised in the hard maple belt, it recalls the days of real sport in the sugar bush. Then they had appetites and digestions to eat their fill of the delicious sweetness with impunity.

Look out for "DINTY," April 18th, Family Theatre.

Additional Brevities

Mrs. Lena is at Underwood, Wash.

Remember "DINTY," April 18th, at Family Theatre.

Dr. and Mrs. R. G. McCall went to Portland Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bartlett drove to Portland yesterday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Sparks drove to Oregon City, Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Flora Schenk, of Gresham, recently visited with friends in Estacada.

H. G. Knox, of Portland, was here a couple of days last week looking up the wood situation.

Mrs. R. H. Currin and Miss Goldie Elliott spent the weekend with Mr. Currin at Bull Run.

Moore & Clossner, who have put in a saw mill in the vicinity of Eagle Creek, commenced operations this week.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. R. E. Lovell.

Joe Nicholson came down from the mountains Tuesday, where he has been for some time, and will return tomorrow.

Mrs. Ed. Douglass, of Portland, motored over to Estacada yesterday in her "Baby Grand" and spent a few hours with relatives and friends. Mrs. Viola Douglass accompanied her home.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mills left yesterday for Enumclaw, Wash., where they will make their home. They have lived here for a number of years and make the change to be near their daughter, Mrs. Willis Cox. Lonnie Barclay, a grandson, who has been attending school here, accompanied them.

Mr. and Mrs. Baumgardner are here from Salem. The former is janitor at the State School for the blind, while Mrs. Baumgardner is one of the supervisors. Mr. Baumgardner badly needed a vacation, as his work is constant and every day without cease. He had moreover, a bad cold, so they took a little vacation combining business with recreation, as they have some property interests to look after in town.
