

Currinsville School Notes

A pie social was held at the Currinsville school, May 6th, to raise money to buy gasoline lamps to light the school. This was also a house warming for the new play shed.

Many brought their baby pictures, and were dressed as children. The pictures were placed along the black board where everyone could have a trial guessing the identity of the babies. Wilma Kitching and Mrs. Jennie Saling received the prize.

Fred Saling was given book by his teacher, Mrs. Althea Davis, as a reward for perfect attendance and excellent record.

The Sunshine Girls sold home-made candy, which was in great demand.

Some of the pies were auctioned off, and the rest were sold for ten cents a cut. Hugh Jones and George Walter were auctioneers, and Charles Kitching was delivery boy. Coffee was served free. Proceeds of the evening were $30.69.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the evening very much. School will close May 20.
