

School Election

The high school auditorium was almost filled to its capacity last Monday evening, for the school board election. Evidently much interest was aroused this year. Dr. Morse, as chairman of the board, called the meeting to order, and Mrs. Susie Sarver, the clerk, read the financial report, which showed the gratifying fact that there was on hand the sum of $2,000. As Dr. Morse's term was expiring, the next proceeding was the election of his successor. Mr. Whitbeck nominated the doctor to succeed himself, and W. H. Holder nominated Mrs. Mae Reed. No other nominees being presented, the ballot was taken, with nearly 200 votes cast. Dr. Morse received 122 of these, and was declared elected. He expressed his thanks for the endorsement this vote indicated. As W. R. Woodworth had resigned, his place had to be filled. E. W. Bartlett nominated George Weatherby and O. E. Smith nominated Dr. R. G. McCall. The ballot being taken, showed a vote 132 for Mr. Weatherby, and he was declared elected. Mrs. Susie Sarver having declined re-election as clerk, Mrs. Myrtle Belfils was nominated, and as there was no other nominee put forth, the clerk, on motion, was instructed to cast a unanimous ballot for her. The meeting then adjourned, and the school board held its usual session for the settlement of bills and other business.

Finch Family Leave

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Finch and family left Saturday afternoon for Portland, where they will stop a few days and then proceed in a leisurely fashion to California. They go in their car. Their California address will be Atascadero, near San Luis Obispo. This is the colony started and promoted by Lewis who a few years ago founded the University City near St. Louis Mo. He established a large printing plant and was planning other large schemes when the government stopped his mail privileges. He fought the government and won his suit, showing that he had been a victim of a conspiracy. But he lost all he had. His present venture is an ambitious one and reads very attractively. Mr. Finch does not intend to locate there, however. The NEWS wishes them a very pleasant trip, and hopes to see them back some-

Homer Schock of New York City, visited his aunt, Mrs. Margaret Schock two days last week. As Homer Romaine, he played last week at the Orpheum theatre in Portland in an athletic act.

News' Ads are Read

As proof that the Ads in the NEWS are read, J. W. Dillinger, of Garfield, published one week before last, about "strawberries for sale." It ran one week and then he asked that it be discontinued. We forgot to take it out so it ran again last week. Saturday he called the office up to be sure and take it out, for he was being overwhelmed with parties wanting strawberries.

Go with the crowd to the People's Theatre, Estacada, June 30. The Lee Stock Co. will be there in one of their best plays.
