DODGE NEWS

Charles Coison is building a new house.

Clarence Jubb is working with his tractor on the market road near Mulino.

Most of the farmers are through with their hay, and are now beginning their grain harvest.

The Community Club held its monthly meeting last Saturday evening. A goodly number was present, and a very enjoyable time spent. A prize was given for the best essay on "How can the Community Club best serve the district?" There were three essays read, the prize going to Fred Horner, who offered the same to be again competed for next month, and given to the one writing the best essay on "The Community Spirit." The reading of the community newspaper, The Gabler, was the source of great amusement to all present, and kept the audience bubbling with merriment. Some business came under consideration which it is hoped will eventually benefit the district quite a good deal. One feature of the entertainment deserving of special mention, was the recital of Edgar Allen Poe's poem, "The Raven," by Mr. Pedersen. It was very ably done, and was a pleasing surprise to all present and much appreciated. A small exhibit of flowers, grown in the district was held, which was very pleasing to the promoters in that a beautiful and abundant collection of flowers was shown. Afterwards a fine supper was partaken of by all present.

Admission, children 10 and adults 25 cents.

A costume party and entertainment will be given by the P. T. A. at the Pavilion, on Tuesday, August 23 at 7:30 p. m.

All children are invited to attend in costume. A prize will be given for the prettiest girl's costume, and another one for the funniest boy's costume.

Admission, children 10 and adults 25 cents.

A party of blind people last week held a picnic here, and the R. R. Co. furnished a number of attendants to escort and look after them.

Additional Brevities

Mrs. C. N. Willard and children went to Portland yesterday.

Dr. and Mrs. L. A. Wells and children drove to Portland, on Tuesday.

Mrs. L. C. Possen and daughter Leta went to Portland Monday, returning Tuesday afternoon.

The date for the election of the school director to succeed W. R. Woodworth resigned, has been set for August 26th at 8 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bartlett have gone to visit their former home and friends at La Grande in Eastern Oregon. They are making the trip in their car.

Edward Shearer of Springwater, returned Tuesday afternoon, from a brief visit to Salem, to which place he had gone on business connected with the state fair. He will serve again this year as superintendent of the poultry division.

Prof. Burns Injured

F. E. Burns suffered a painful accident Tuesday of last week, which will lay him up for a time. He was on his return home from visiting his son Frederick at Enterprise in Wallowa county, and got off the train at Hood River. Here he took an auto stage. He does not recall anything clearly after this. But it is reported that he tried to step off the stage while it was in motion, and fell on his head suffering a severe concussion which rendered him unconscious. He was brought to the Good Samaritan hospital at Portland, but did not recover consciousness until the next day.

Mrs. Burns was notified, and went up to Portland and brought her husband back Friday. He is slowly improving but has to be kept absolutely quiet.

Birthday Party

A very pleasant party was given at the home of J. H. Rieher of Garfield, on August 6th. Little Ruth Colt who is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Rieher, was the charming hostess to her girl friends, Irma and Ellen Solspiegle and Irene Davis. While childhood laughed with the delight of the moment, there sat sat and smiled at the head of the birthday board, great grandfather Rieher, a mere child of 92 odd years, who lived over again the days of his youth. The bountiful feast, was enjoyed by all, particularly the central figure, one of grandmother's masterpieces, with its six burning candles. Many nice tokens of love and friendship were left by the visitors and all wished the little lady many more happy returns of the joyful event.

Costume Party

A costume party and entertainment will be given by the P. T. A. at the Pavilion, on Tuesday, August 23 at 7:30 p. m.

Lovell-Ewalt Wedding

A pretty home wedding was solemnized last Monday noon at the home of C. R. Lovell in Currinsville, when Miss Della Lovell was united in marriage to Lloyd Ewalt, of Gervais, Oregon. The service was read by the Rev. Carrick, of Springwater, in the presence of the immediate families. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of light blue satin. Her bouquet was a shower of baby breath and Cecil Bruner roses. After the ceremony, a delicious dinner was served with covers laid for ten.

Both the bride and the groom were members of the class of 1916, of the Estacada High School, where Mrs. Ewalt was prominent in social and literary activities, while Mr. Ewalt was an earnest class and student body worker, and distinguished himself in debating and track. He also spent some time in the service during the war. As they are both general favorites in the community, they have a host of friends who are delighted over the happy event, and the fact that they are to make their home in this vicinity.

Drowns in Effort to Save

Mrs. Thomas Yocum returned Saturday from Dayton, Oregon, where she had been called to the funeral of her nephew, Glenn Lewis. This boy, who is the son of Mrs. J. G. Lewis, the sister of Mrs. Yocum, was fifteen years old, and lost his life in gallantly trying to save a girl from drowning.

A party of young people had gone bathing in the Yamhill river at Lafayette rocks. Carol, the daughter of Rev. K. K. Clark, the pastor of the M. E. church at Dayton, was one of them and became helpless in deep water. Young Lewis bravely tried to rescue and bring her to shore, but became exhausted before doing so, and sank from sight. A man in a boat near by was attracted to the scene, and arrived in time to pick up the girl. But the boy did not rise again to the surface, and his body was subsequently recovered. The funeral was largely attended and most pathetic, the officiating minister, who was a great friend of Lewis, breaking down in his sermon.

Notice

To my friends and patrons of Estacada, I have sold my office and practice to Dr. Niff. He has had years of experience as a dentist, and has just completed a post graduate course under Dr. Hall of New York, America's foremost specialist in construction of artificial teeth and bridge work. Dr. Niff has all the latest methods of painless dental operations and comes highly recommended as a skillful and careful workman. I earnestly solicit for Dr. Niff the very flattering patronage which I have received.

A Paying Crop

F. M. Gill of Dufur, in Wasco county, has a fine cherry orchard from which he recently shipped a car load of Lamberts, receiving the highest price paid so far this season for northwest cherries at Chicago. They averaged him 32 1/2 cents per pound. He got 43 1/2 cents for most of the lot, but there were about 500 lbs of smaller fruit which lowered the general average. Mr. Gill is a son-in-law of William Dale of this place.

PORTLAND ELKS HELD CARNIVAL

Saturday, the advance guard under command of F. W. Wagner, arrived with a car load of paraphernalia for the big picnic on Sunday, and were busy all day getting things in readiness. A special train of 12 cars left Portland at 9 a. m., loaded to the gunwale with passengers, numbering over 1000. It is estimated that 700 came by auto, so that fully two thousand participated. From the moment of arrival, the fun began and waxed fast and furious till the train pulled out of the depot on its return about 6:30 p. m. The park looked like a midway concession, and the program included games, races, stunts by the Jantzen Bathing Girls, dancing, music by the Elks' orchestra and picnic dinner. The day was a huge success, so much so, that Fred Wagner, of the Elks' committee who has been attending Elks' picnics since they were first inaugurated, told an Oregonian reporter on his return to Portland, that "It was the largest and most happy in the history of the local lodge, No. 142, B. P. O. E. No hearts were broken, but the record in the fat woman's race was reduced several hundred pounds."

A kindergarten, where kiddies were checked, was maintained in the band stand, in charge of Mrs. Applegate, and a Red Cross room at Hotel Estacada, under charge of Mrs. Clark and Dr. E. Morrow for anyone who might be ill. The officials of the P. R. L. & P. Co., also rendered notable service in every way, especially Freight and Traffic Manager, E. L. Meyers, who was "Johnny on the spot" at all hours.

County Officials Conflict

The Hon. County Judge and the Hon. County Sheriff are at outs as to "Who's Who" as traffic officer. The former declares that his appointee is "It", while the latter claims his appointee is the only one. At the last pay day, the county court issued the check to its man, and thus wins the first count, but it is said the sheriff will have a come back by appealing to a higher court.

Civic Picnic, Sunday

The city civil service employees of Portland, will picnic here on Sunday at the park. A big program has been arranged, with Mayor George Baker as the chief orator of the day. Unfortunately Estacada's mayor is absent on vacation, and so cannot tender his brother Mayor the freedom of our city.

DIED

At the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Blaisdell of Eagle Creek on Friday, August 5, 1921, Mrs. Mary Fletcher aged 82 yrs., 3 mos. and 29 days. Funeral services were held in the Eagle Creek church, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Carrick of Springwater officiating, with interment in the Foster cemetery.

Still Going Strong

J. P. Steinman of Currinsville, started in his old reliable Ford car, to Portland along the river road by way of Carver station. He made 31 6-10 miles on a gallon of gas, which made the cost about a cent a mile.

Hay fever, and catarrhal deafness yield readily to finger surgery. See Dr. Rhodes, Hotel Estacada, Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, 8:30 to 4:30 p. m. 461f
