OREGON NEWS NOTES OF GENERAL INTEREST

Principal Events of the Week Briefly Sketched for Information of Our Readers.

Food and dairy products supervisors of the western states held a two-day convention in Portland.

The state lime plant at Gold Hill has closed down, due to lack of orders from the farmers for limestone.

The first rabid coyote reported in several years in that section was killed a half mile from La Pine by a road crew.

Lottie Augusta Thompson, who settled in Canyon City in 1863, died last week in that city at the age of 82 years.

A loss of $20,000 was sustained when fire destroyed the King's Valley Lumber company's plant, two miles from King's Valley.

Work on the Pacific highway south of Monmouth, which was retarded for a considerable period of time by litigation, is now in full swing.

More vessels crossed the Coos Bay bar in August than in any month since October, 1919, a period of nearly two years. The number was 37.

Oregon trappers caught 249 predatory animals in August, according to a report compiled by Stanley G. Jewett, predatory animal inspector.

The budget for the Central Oregon Irrigation district for the coming year is fixed at $115,000, necessitating a tax on the settlers of $1.25 an acre.

W. J. Gortmaker is dead at Oregon City as the result of being scalded while engaged in repairing the flume leading to the Oregon City Woolen mills.

Frank Filley, aged 60, a well-known Sutherlin sawmill owner, was instantly killed when he fell against a circular saw, severing his head from his body.

The Berrians of Newberg sent out a crate of the new Burbank Standard prunes to President Harding and another to Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

Because of road construction the McKenzie pass will be closed to travel from September 12 until spring, it is announced from forest service headquarters.

The total fire loss for Oregon, exclusive of Portland, during August, was $318,895, according to the monthly report made by A. C. Barber, state fire marshal.

Oregon's common school fund will have at least $21,648.71 this year from the banks of the state whose unclaimed commercial and savings deposits escheated to the state.

Keber Brothers' lot of fuggles hops at Mount Angel yielded 8000 pounds from 10 acres, and the quality was excellent. All growers in that vicinity have completed picking.

The management of the yellow pine regions in Oregon and California will be discussed by forestry officials of the two states at a conference to be held soon in southern Oregon.

C. A. Johnson of Fossil has been appointed sheriff of Wheeler county to succeed Sheriff Keeley, who resigned as a result of a report by auditors that his books showed a shortage of $19,973.83.

Ninety-two feet of the trestle of the Eugene-Springfield electric railway of the Southern Pacific company was destroyed when a large hop dryer, adjoining the track at West Springfield, was burned.

The Springfield Milling & Grain company, with a capacity of 224 barrels of flour daily, has an order from a Portland firm that will keep the mill operating at full capacity for more than a month.

Rev. Jesse T. Anderson, the missing Baptist minister of Marshfield, was arrested at Clarksburg, W. Va. He will not be returned to Marshfield. Rev. Mr. Anderson disappeared in Portland several weeks ago.

Resolutions asking that the tariff protecting lumber and shingles be taken from the bill now before congress, were ordered sent to Oregon legislators as the result of a vote taken by directors of the Bend Commercial club.

The new annex to the Astoria high school, which is now under construction, will be dedicated as a memorial to the Clatsop county young men who lost their lives during the world war. The dedication exercises will be held next Armistice day.

Dissatisfaction with the management and rates of the Cottage Grove Electric company was shown by the voters in a recent special city election, when a $50,000 issue of bonds for an electric light system was authorized by a 3-to-1 vote.

Newspapers of Oregon will be forced to pay the Western Union Telegraph company approximately 20 per cent more for intrastate press messages after October 10 than they pay at present, unless its proposed new rates, filed with the public service commission, are suspended by the commission.

A special election to vote on the proposed issue of municipal bonds amounting to $130,000 to take up Condon's funded and warranted indebtedness and to extend the present water system, has been set for September 17.

Attention of the people of Linn county to the 1925 exposition in Portland will be called in a forcible way during the county fair at Albany. The fair board has decided to designate the opening day, October 4, as "1925 Portland Exposition Day."

The wages of the 300 common laborers employed by the Portland Railway, Light & Power company were reduced approximately 20 per cent when the arbitration board of three, appointed to settle a dispute between the employees and the company, made its report.

The Southern Pacific company will not reduce its fares to compete with the automobile stages that have been cutting into passenger traffic, but will take trains off the lines where necessary, according to F. E. Batturs, assistant passenger traffic manager of the company.

Elimination of grazing land for 36,000 sheep, of the 75,000-horsepower water power possibilities of the Umpqua river and of the fishing privileges in Diamond lake, were the reasons which prompted the Bend Commercial club to go on record as opposing the inclusion of the lake and surrounding territory in the Crater Lake National park.

The new course of study for the schools of Oregon, which will be issued in September, 1922, will contain an outline by grades for humane education, a letter addressed to county superintendents by J. A. Churchill, state superintendent, has announced. The last legislature passed an act requiring humane education in every public school in Oregon.

Five fatalities were listed among the 365 accidents reported to the state industrial accident commission during the week ending September 8. Those who lost their lives were Chris Mueller, a logger of Dallas; Phillip Kruff, a logger of Astoria; Wert J. Gortmaker, a carpenter of Oregon City; Chas. Northrup, a laborer, of The Dalles, and G. P. Sloan, a painting contractor of Portland.

The census bureau has issued a preliminary statement of results shown by the manufactures census taken in Oregon for 1919, which reflects a marvelous growth of industries in the five years following 1914. The value of manufactured products in those five years increased 234.2 per cent and capital invested in manufacturing establishments almost as much, or 215.4 per cent.

Douglas county's prune yield will be more than one-third of the crop of the Pacific northwest, according to estimates made. Estimates on the prune crop for the northwest, according to Oregon Growers' association officials and representatives of the larger packing corporations, vary between 22,000,000 and 27,000,000 pounds. Douglas county's yield is placed at approximately 9,000,000 pounds.

Dr. Richard M. Brumfield, former Roseburg dentist and leader in local fraternal and social affairs, will go on trial in the circuit court at Roseburg, Wednesday, October 5, on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the brutal slaying of Dennis Russell on the night of July 13. This was the announcement made by Judge Bingham, after he had overruled a motion for a change of venue presented by the attorneys for the defendant.

The total net income of taxable persons in Oregon during the year 1919 amounted to $166,240,596, according to the figures that have been compiled by the office of Milton A. Miller, collector of internal revenue. The tax paid on this income was $8,232,347. Two persons of the state paid taxes on incomes of from $500.00 to $750.00; the same number paid taxes on between $400,000 and $500,000. Seven are listed with incomes ranging from $150,000 to $200,000, and 18 with incomes of from $100,000 to $150,000.

Additional Brevities

S. E. Wooster transacted business in Portland yesterday.

Mesdames A. G. Ames and Lena Underwood were in Portland yesterday.

Mrs. Viola Douglass and Miss Bina Douglass returned last night from a visit at The Dalles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holder accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Sarver, drove to Portland last Saturday.

Mrs. H. B. VanDuzer and Miss Constance Cole of Portland, were visitors of Dr. and Mrs. R. Morse last Sunday.

The Community club will resume meetings on the last Friday evening of this month, after the summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Morton arrived from Seattle yesterday evening and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Moore.

A flock of wild geese camped on the vacant lots by the city hall a few nights ago. A large number of them have been flying south lately.

Mrs. J. E. Gates has a professional card in this issue, as a piano teacher. She has had some years experience with success in this line. Call her up or see her at the Bazaar.

Rebekahs Surprised

The Rebekah lodge was treated to a surprise last night by their brothers of the Odd Fellows lodge. The former had just concluded their regular session, when they were invited into the dining room where a fruit lunch was spread on the tables. There were cookies, peaches and cream, watermelons and other varieties of fruit, to which those present did full justice. After the inner man had been refreshed, a general good social time followed, which brought the evening only too soon to a close.

Epworth League

All are invited to attend Epworth League at the M. E. church, every Sunday, at 6:30 p. m. The League is planning to do real things this winter, and with your help it will be possible to put these plans into effect. There will be some sort of an entertainment or social each month. Mrs. Pimm will be the leader for Sunday night with an interesting subject: "Sins of the Tongue." Everybody come and bring your bibles.

Officials Take Pictures

Tuesday afternoon, a special car, with Conductor Fred Talbert in charge, brought to Estacada a number of the P. R. L. & P. Co.'s officials, among whom were G. C. Fields, Superintendent of the Interurban Lines, and Geo. L. Kelley, Land Agent. They evidently were on important business, as took pictures of all the railroad buildings including Hotel Estacada.

No Microbes Here

The deputy inspector for the Oregon Dairy and Food Commission was here last Monday and inspected the Hotel Estacada. In his report he says: "This is a clean, well kept hotel. Kitchen range and utensils are clean and room well lighted and well supplied with meat boxes, which are also clean. Dining room is clean and well lighted."

Well Done, Boy!

Harry Osborne enters high school this year with a perfect record, having gone to the Estacada grammar school eight years without being absent or tardy.

We do Job Printing.

County Fair Notes

The Clackamas County fair at Canby, opened auspiciously yesterday morning, with more cattle than the stalls will hold and temporary structures being built to house the exhibits.

So numerous were the displays that the entry list could not be closed until noon. The lower floor of the pavilion contains the grange and mercantile exhibits.

The principle features are the livestock and poultry exhibits which are of a better grade and more numerous than at any of the previous fairs. This year poultry exhibits from outside the county are allowed to compete, and the number of birds total almost 400.

The displays of the boys' and girls' clubs occupy a prominent place, and in the fruit, canning and sewing department there are more than 80 exhibitors. The entertainment program is unusually strong this year.

P. T. A. Play Pleases

The comedy, "The Mishaps of Minerva," which was put on in the high school auditorium last Friday night by the P. T. association, met with a warm reception. It was easily the best play that has been given during the past year. The players fitted naturally into their respective roles and they all knew their lines, which they rendered very fluently. The main part of the auditorium was well filled and the musical numbers by Mrs. J. C. Gates and Messrs. Arthur Caswell, Sharp and Ted Ahlberg proved delightful interludes.

Evangelistic Meetings

State Evangelist A. M. Williams will begin a series of meetings at the Christian church, Sunday, Sept. 18, at 11 a. m. Mr. Williams is an able and fearless preacher and it will be well worth your while to come out and hear him.

The church building has been calcimined and otherwise greatly improved inside, and a hearty welcome is extended to all to come and worship with us.

Fire Does Damage

Yesterday morning about half past seven, the fire alarm was sounded. Prompt response was given and the hose carts taken to the scene of action. The fire was in the house belonging to J. W. Shafford on the height south east of town, and was caused by a defective flue. The roof suffered considerable damage, and the interior somewhat by smoke and water.

BISSELL ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. W. Held left for the coast last Tuesday.

Mrs. Henry Johnson visited relatives in Portland for a few days last week.

Miss Edith Buhault of Portland, is visiting her sister Mrs. H. Smith of George.

Mrs. A. Lee was called to Clackamas last Friday on account of the illness of her father.

Robert Miller, after spending the past three months in California, returned home last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Decker returned home last Wednesday, after spending a few days at Seaside.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Star visited the latter's mother, Mrs. H. Joyner last Tuesday and Wednesday.

Pointer, the painter, puts in glass. See him for your windows as cool weather will soon be here.

FRUIT COMBINE BRINGS RETURNS

Recent payments to growers on fruit pools of the Oregon Growers Cooperative Association come to more than $100,000. Prune growers have received a second advance of approximately $75,000 and loganberry growers have been advanced 1½ cents a pound on their deliveries to the association.

Payment of 4 cents a pound on gooseberries has been made and as fast as money is coming in on sales, it is being advanced to the grower. The pears in the Willamette and Umpqua valleys were sold for cash, $65 for No. 1s and $35 for No. 2s and a large part of this money will soon be available for distribution to growers.

The association is following out the policy of making payments on the fruit pools as fast as there is enough money in the pool to warrant distribution, each grower receiving the same amount per pound or per ton for his deliveries.

More than 530 tons, 31 carloads of Bartletts, were handled by the Oregon Growers' Co-operative Association in these valleys during the season which has just closed. All but one of the 15 cars produced in the Willamette valley, were processed at canneries within the valley.

Some fall pears will be shipped from both Umpqua and the Willamette valleys, though the combined plantings of Bosc, D'Anjou and Comice are not as extensive as those of the Bartlett, which is the universal favorite for canning.

The Round Up

An array of performers who will compete for world's championships—a prize list that in cash and added trophies is the greatest ever offered—fast relay strings, snappy young steers and the wildest of bucking bronks—these are some of the features promised for the 1921 Pendleton Round-Up, September 22, 23 and 24.

Gay in brilliant shirts and fuzzy chaps, cowboys and cowgirls are already gathering in Pendleton in anticipation of the big event. Indians are ready with their beaded buckskins, elk teeth strings, furs and other trappings for the Indian parades and ceremonies which are a part of each day's program. Soon their teepees will be pitched at the Round-Up grounds and smoke from the campfires will mingle with dust from the corral where the try-outs are now being held.

"The best train service ever afforded Round-Up visitors," is the way William McMurray, general passenger agent, characterizes the service for this year. Pendleton homes will be thrown open to visitors, and the Round-Up Association, made up of prominent Pendleton citizens, promises that there shall be no profiteering.

The Pacific University at Forest Grove, opened last week with the largest recorded attendance in its history. This year it will be found entered in more competitive contests, athletic and forensic, than ever before. L. J. Frank, new physical director who comes from the University of Oregon, promises a winning football team.

Stated Communication Mountain Chapter No. 108, O. E. S., Third Tuesday night, at I. O. O. F. hall. Degrees. Order W. M. ANNA M. DILLON, Secretary.
