Wedding Bells

At Hillsboro, Oregon, October 4th, 1921, Miss Bina Douglass, of Estacada, was united in marriage to William Bell, of Sandy Ridge. They were accompanied by their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Black, of Portland. The Rev. Herbert A. Dick, pastor of the Congregational Church at Hillsboro, tied the knot. The bride is a popular young lady, being the daughter of Mrs. Viola Douglass, and was born and raised on the Douglass homestead, at Sandy Ridge. The groom is a well-to-do farmer of Sandy. After a brief visit at Seaside, the newly married couple will go to their home at Sandy Ridge. A host of friends extend congratulations, among whom the editor of the NEWS begs to include himself.

Again a Winner

The school football eleven is starting out bravely, having repeated its victory two weeks ago over Franklin High, by beating Hillsboro last Friday by the same score of 20 to 0. If they keep on this way, they will earn the title of "The Unbeatable." To-morrow they go to play the High School at Forest Grove. The following are the huskies who compose the team: Roy McKinney, Jesse Demoy, Waldo Demoy, Andy Janssen, Marion Tucker, Arnold Lovelace, Arthur Morris, Ike Tucker, George Denny, Benton Sarver and Walter Anderson. ## COMMUNITY CLUB OPENS THIRD YEAR

There was a large attendance at the first meeting of the Community Club last Friday night, after the summer vacation. President Stephens called the meeting to order, and in the absence of Secretary C. E. Kilgore, appointed Fred Bartholomew as Secretary, pro tem. He then gave a short talk on the Community Club work since its organization, and spoke encouragingly of what the Club might do in the future. The road work was especially emphasized upon, and a committee to see that this part of the county got what is coming to it along this line, he appointed the following: G. Wilcox, of Estacada; A. H. Miller, George; A. C. Cogswell, Eagle Creek; J. O. Tunnell, Currinsville; Wm. A. Bard, Springwater; and T. B. Young of Garfield. The committee on entertainment is Mesdames F. E. Burns, A. C. Gates and G. E. Lawrence.

A program followed the business session, consisting of community singing led by Mrs. G. E. Lawrence; reading by Miss Morgan; solo by Mr. Huggins, of Portland, and an address by Rev. Williams, the evangelist, on "Community Spirit." Miss L. P. Shields, of Portland, also spoke in connection with the Lyceum course which the high school has obtained for the coming school year. The evening's enjoyment was rounded out with light refreshments and a general social time.

University Notes

been reached in the University of Oregon at the close of the fifth day of the fall term, which opened September 26. This includes 150 students in the medical school in Portland, which is a regular department of the university proper. On the Eugene campus alone 1884 students have registered and late entrants are expected to swell the total to 1950.

Student loans at the University of Oregon may in the future be limited to non-smokers, according to Dean John Straub, trustee of the fund, which was built up by gifts. "The amount of money spent by an average smoker during a school year is $50 or better," says Dean Straub, "and it is felt that if a student really needs help he should eliminate this item of expense."

"Oregon, 1925," the designation of the present freshman class at the University of Oregon, is expected to meet the approval of the backers of the great industrial exposition being planned for Portland in that year.

Moonshine

It was reported in town yesterday, that a cache of moonshine had been unearthed in the Garfield district. No still was found, but a large quantity of the fiery liquid. Prohibition may not prohibit, but moonshiners have hard sledding in Clackamas county. There must be a tremendous profit in the business, in order to offset the losses from confiscation and heavy fines, when discovery is made.

Dr. W. W. Rhodes, osteopathic physician, located at Hotel Estacada, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from 8:30 to 4 p. m. 9-8tf
